

MAYOR SCHMITZ HAS NEW PLAN TO GIVE $7,000,000 TO THE REFUGEES

SLAUGHTER JEWS IN RUSSIA

Dead Left in Streets; Hospitals Are Filled With Wounded.

BIALYSTOK, Russia, June 15.—So far as can be ascertained thirty Jews were killed during yesterday's outbreak here. The hospitals are filled with wounded, but it is impossible to ascertain the correct number of the casualties, as many of the injured are hidden in private houses.

All the Jewish shops on the four principal streets were sacked. Military and police patrols now guard the streets and no civilians are allowed to leave their houses.

A sort of armed truce has been established pending the complete restoration of order.

SOLDIERS IN CHARGE.

BIALYSTOK, Russia, June 15.—When the Associated Press correspondent arrived here at four o'clock this morning the city was in possession of the soldiers belonging to the "Udmit" regiment. The railroad stations were guarded by military detachments and entrance into the town was prohibited.

The population was greatly excited and the Jews were terror-stricken but there was no resumption of the killing of Jews up to noon.

According to the information obtainable the attacks upon the Jews were provoked by the throwing of a bomb into a religious procession, that of Corpus Christi, yesterday, seriously wounding a priest, Father Fedoroff, who was at the head of the procession, and several of his assistants.

KILLED AND WOUNDED.

This aroused the Christian population and although the perpetrators of the outrage were unknown the responsibility was promptly placed on the Jews.

A mob was soon formed and for several hours ravaged the Jewish quarter, Novo Shosseina, L'pova, Meletzka and Alexandrov streets, pillaging the shops and hunting down and beating their occupants.

About twenty persons were killed and eighty were wounded.

For hours the bodies of the dead and wounded lay uncarried in the streets. The Jews concealed themselves in cellars and attics in order to escape the fury of the mob, and many fled from the city. Governor Grodno arrived here at midnight, and today is taking all the measures necessary to calm the population.

DISCUSSES SITUATION.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 15.—M. Shafel, a member of parliament from Ekaterinoslav, accompanied by a number of members of the lower house from the Jewish pale, called on M. Stolypin, the minister of the interior, today, regarding the anti-Jewish outbreak at Bialystok.

WOMAN IS DEAD IN BATHTUB

Mrs. Ella D. Harper Meets Death in Mysterious Manner.

ALAMEDA, June 15.—The dead body of an unknown woman was found last night about 10 o'clock in a bathtub at the Thompson baths on Central avenue, in the West End. The discovery was made by David Robertson, an attendant at the place. The body was lying in a bathtub which contained about seven inches of water. It has not been ascertained as yet whether the woman came to her death by drowning, poison, or natural causes.

THOMPSON'S STORY.

David Thompson, proprietor of the baths, states that the woman came into the place about 9 o'clock in the evening and wished to take a hot salt-water bath. She was assigned by an attendant to room 7. When closing time came and it was known that the woman had not left her room, Robertson was sent to ascertain the cause of her delay.

ATTENDANT DISCOVERS BODY.

He looked through a window into the room and saw the apparently lifeless body of the woman in the tub. He notified Thompson of his discovery and together they entered the room. They removed the woman's body from the tub, and thinking that her life might be saved, they summoned Dr. W. O. Smith. On his arrival he found that the woman had been dead some time. The remains were taken to the Alameda morgue.

ABOUT 35 YEARS OLD.

The woman appears to be about 35 years of age. She is five feet four inches in height and weighs about 130 pounds. She is of dark complexion and has jet-black hair. She appears to be either Spanish or Portuguese. She wore a short black jacket, white waist, dark plaid skirt, a gray felt hat trimmed with black feathers, a white belt with gun-metal buckles, and buttoned shoes. She had a black leather purse which contained $5 in silver, a thimble, a key on a blue ribbon, a white handkerchief and

TOM COLLINS, ROBBER, IS DEAD IN MEXICO

THE LATE TOM COLLINS, BANK ROBBER, WHO DIED IN MEXICO.

Bandit Who Aided in Robbery of an Oakland Bank Messenger Captured by Death.

MARTINEZ, June 15.—Tom Collins, who aided Zimmerman in the highway robbery in March of 1905, in which an Oakland bank lost $10,000, which it was sending in a buggy to the Standard Oil Company in Point Richmond, Contra Costa county, is dead.

The knowledge as to the place in which he concealed his body, so far as known, died with him. Zimmerman, however, who was captured, has been sentenced to the penitentiary for forty years and is now undergoing the penalty. He also has maintained silence as to what he has done with his ill-gotten coin.

DIES IN MEXICO.

Collins died in Mexico and his confederate, Zimmerman, was aware of the fact before he was sent to the penitentiary.

Sheriff Veale is authority for this statement. He it was who first started out in pursuit of Zimmerman and Collins, and he it was who took the former into custody when he was captured in San Francisco and retained him in the county jail at this place until the Supreme court decided that he had to go to the penitentiary.

"HE IS DEAD."

"Collins is dead," said Sheriff Veale to THE TRIBUNE correspondent today. "He died in Mexico about three months ago. I got the story from a friend of mine who saw him down there. It also came to me from a pal of his who has reformed. Collins was hanging around the City of Mexico when he died. His death was a natural one. He died of disease."

ZIMMERMAN HAD HEARD.

"His pal, Zimmerman, knew of his death. When I told him about it he said that he had already heard of it. So far as I know, Collins never told any one what he had done with the money he had stolen from the bank. Collins spoke Spanish very well, and could, therefore, be at home down there. Yes, I believe that Collins has passed in his checks."

she stopped at the baths on the way.

Mrs. Harper was a divorced woman, her husband being W. D. Harper, a prominent New York business man. She also has a son, W. D. Harper Jr., whose address is given as 109 West 105th street, New York. She also has a brother, James Dunn of Dutch Flat, California, and a sister, Mrs. Unruh, who lives on the Baldwin ranch in Southern California.

A card bearing Lowe's telephone number was found in the woman's purse, so Lowe was communicated with. He once roomed at Mrs. Nouman's house. At the autopsy water was found on her lungs, and it is supposed that she fell into the tub, on account of heart failure, or some such cause, and was drowned.

WOMAN IDENTIFIED.

F. Lowe, of 771 Fourteenth street, Oakland, connected with the Liverpool & London & Globe Insurance Company, came to Alameda and identified the remains as those of Mrs. Ella D. Harper, a seamstress aged about 41 years, and who lived with Mrs. Nouman of 3024 California street, San Francisco.

It is presumed that Mrs. Harper came to Alameda to take work as a seamstress, and that

COUNCIL! CLOSE THIS SALOON

—Rev. Father Dempsey

Oakland Priest Declares That Resort Is a Disgrace to City.

The Rev. Edward R. Dempsey, pastor of St. Mary's Church of the Immaculate Conception, has filed with the city clerk for presentation to the council, a vigorous protest against the granting of a license to Smith & Israel, proprietors of the Venezia Gardens on Seventh street near Jefferson street, within a stone's throw of St. Mary's church. Father Dempsey declares that while he has no personal feeling in the matter, he believes that there are at present more than enough saloons in the neighborhood.

WOMEN MADE DRUNK.

He further says in his communication to the city council that no city should tolerate such a resort as the Venezia Gardens on one of its main streets, where, as was the case before the place was closed by the council because of flagrant violations of the liquor ordinance, women in all stages of intoxication might be seen at all hours of day or night entering and leaving the place, and that orgies of the most disgraceful character were engaged in nightly behind the walls of the so-called garden.

In his letter to the council, Father Dempsey says:

FATHER'S LETTER.

"Oakland, Cal., June 15, 1906.
"To the Members of the City Council of Oakland—Gentlemen: From a notice posted at 562 or 572 Seventh street, a place known as the Venezia Gardens, I, as a resident of the district and a citizen of Oakland, am invited to protest against the issuance of a license to Messrs. Smith & Israel, who have applied for the same to enable them to sell intoxicating liquors. Messrs. Smith & Israel are unknown to me, but, gentlemen, in my own name, in the name of the clergy of St. Mary's, in the name of the people of St. Mary's Roman Catholic congregation, and in the name of the four hundred children of St. Mary's schools, I protest against the giving of a license to Messrs. Smith & Israel, or to any other parties as far as concerns the Venezia Gardens. I do so on the following grounds:

GIVES REASONS.

"First—There is no place for another saloon in this district, as on Seventh street, between Jefferson street and Broadway, there are now ten saloons, certainly a sufficient number to accommodate the thirst of a large city.

"Second—No city should tolerate, on one of its main streets, such a resort as the Venezia has been. For a long time the place has had a very bad reputation. It has been the cause of more than ordinary trouble to the police of Oakland. Its location and arrangements invite the presence of drinking women, and almost any time, especially at night, unfortunate women of all degrees of intoxication have been seen coming out of the place. Only a few weeks ago your honorable body was obliged to take away its license.

"THIS BLACK SPOT."

"Since then a sign, 'Temperance drinks only served here,' has been made ridiculous by men and women, who have been seen going in and out with an unsteady step, for which neither soda water nor lemonade can ever be blamed.

"This black spot is within a few yards of St. Mary's church and St. Mary's school, and such a location is contrary to the state law, which regulates such institutions. Hundreds of young persons and children, on their way to church and school, daily pass this place, and have long enough seen

DID WOMAN COMMIT A MURDER?

Police Say That She Has Confessed to Having Aided in Slaying Husband.

LOS ANGELES, June 15.—According to the police, who claim to have a full confession in their possession, E. J. Stackpole and Mrs. Arla Schack are guilty of the murder of the woman's husband, Joseph Schack, who was shot and instantly killed in bed at his home on San Julian street here at 2 o'clock yesterday morning. Mrs. Schack claimed that her husband was killed by two burglars whom she found in the room, when she awoke and who fired when her husband awakened.

SECURE CONFESSION.

Mrs. Schack and Stackpole were locked up in jail last night following the coroner's inquest, and were confined in separate cells. They were put through a severe questioning by Chief of Detectives Flannery for four hours today, at the conclusion of which the authorities announced to the newspapers that they had secured a full confession of the crime, which they could not yet give to the public.

MURDER TO BE CHARGED.

The police were emphatic in their statements that the mystery had been solved and that all of the details of the murder had been learned.

It is expected that the district attorney will issue warrants against the man and woman this afternoon charging them with murder. Stackpole, who is a carpenter, had known the family for several months and was on intimate terms with both Mr. and Mrs. Schack.

WANT IT FOR IRRIGATION

Objects to Diverting Money for That Purpose to Drainage.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Senator Gallinger does not believe in diverting the irrigation fund so as to utilize it for drainage purposes, and said so today when Senator Mallory attempted to get the senate to act on a resolution authorizing a survey of the Florida everglades with the end in view of determining the practicability of draining them and converting them into farming lands. He referred to Senator Henshaw's bill for the drainage of a million acres of everglades in North Dakota and also to other projects, saying that there are many swamp lands in the New England states and adding:

"If the country is going to get into that kind of game we want to get into it."

The resolution was ultimately sent to the calendar.

unwilling witnesses to the orgies of the vulgar crowd behind the so-called garden walls.

"Gentlemen, I might gladly lengthen this protest by many additional reasons why you should keep closed forever vice-gardens of this particular kind, but I trust that your own familiarity with the conditions which have existed at the Venezia, as well as your watchfulness to save the city from all that is so degrading, will prompt you to grant our request without further ado. Yours respectfully,

(Signed)
"EDWARD R. DEMPSEY,
Pastor St. Mary's Church."

BARTNETT'S IDEA DOES NOT FIND SCHMITZ' FAVOR

No Faith in Scheme Proposed for the Distribution of Relief Funds.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 15.—Mayor Schmitz is not in favor of distributing relief funds, which amount to more than $7,000,000 as suggested by W. J. Bartnett, president of the Western Pacific railroad. The plan of distributing money to the large number of persons who suffered by the recent calamity does not meet with the approval of the city's chief executive. In speaking of the matter this morning Mayor Schmitz said:

"I do not believe that scheme proposed by Mr. Bartnett is a feasible one. No doubt many of the suggestions contained in the letter written to me by Mr. Bartnett are valuable ones, but I do not consider them the best that have been made. If money were given directly to the refugees I am afraid that the greater good would not result. I think the funds we have on hand can be distributed to much better advantage."

LOSES EFFECTIVENESS.

"In scattering the money among many I am afraid that the effectiveness of the relief fund would be impaired. On the other hand if the money is kept concentrated and is given in systematic relief I believe that much suffering can be alleviated and the fund expended in a more judicious manner than if the money was scattered broadcast. It would be a desirable thing to relieve every individual case of suffering, but it is almost to give money directly to the people there would be abuses created, and possibly the relief money in some cases would find its way into unworthy and underserving hands."

ANOTHER METHOD.

"I shall propose to the relief committee another method of spending the funds which have been contributed. Of all the plans that have been suggested to me, and which have been considered, I believe that the building of three model little cities in three different districts of the city is the best. I would favor the purchase of three tracts of ground in the Richmond, Mission and Potrero districts. On these blocks of land model cities or villages could be erected, and the houses rented to the refugees and sufferers at a nominal rent. In this manner all of the needy and deserving could be housed during the winter and the large fund put into immediate circulation, giving work to many. In no case would the refugees be made to feel that they were dependent on charity. The residents of each of the model cities would undoubtedly vie with each other in preserving and beautifying the place in which they resided. This plan to my mind is the most practical and feasible way of giving relief and expending the money which has accumulated. I shall advocate it at the proper time and attempt to put it into effect. Of course, I am open to suggestions at all times, and I am glad to receive them. Mr. Bartnett's thought, and I was glad to receive it, but I think that his scheme of distribution is too higgledy, and that it is open to several serious objections which make it unworkable."

$10,000,000 FOR RELIEF AWAITS SHAW'S WILL

WASHINGTON, June 15.—The California relief committee was heard again by the committee on appropriations today in furtherance of the plan for a government deposit of $10,000,000 for a period of years in the San Francisco banks.

W. J. Bartnett, vice-president of the Western Pacific Railway, expressed the proposition today, but no additional points were brought out. The delegation will remain in the city until the return of Secretary Shaw and it is understood that if he approves of the plan a resolution will be introduced in both houses of congress to make the plan effective.

REASONS WHY HE OBJECTS

Summary of Letter of the President on Packers' Question.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Secretary Loeb today gave the following summary of the letter President Roosevelt wrote Chairman Wadsworth of the house committee on agriculture, disapproving of that committee's substitute for the Beveridge amendment to the agricultural bill regarding the inspection of meat products:

"In the letter to Mr. Wadsworth, the president stated that almost every change in the proposed house amendment was a change for the worse as compared with the senate amendment and that, no matter how unintentionally, it was, in the president's judgment, so framed as to minimize the chance of rooting out the evils in the packing business; that the president felt it would doubtless suit those packers who objected to a thoroughgoing inspection, but that he also felt it would in the long run be a heavy blow to the honest stockraisers and the honest packers; that the proposed amendment would gravely hamper the secretary of agriculture in doing the work appointed him to do and would simply defer the day when we could restore the foreign and interstate trade in meat to a satisfactory position.

"The president has explained verbally that he is far less concerned with the question as to whether the packers or the government should pay for the inspection than with certain other features in the bill."

Chairman Wadsworth of the house committee on agriculture says he will make no statement whatever regarding the president's criticism of the meat inspection amendment.

Other members of the committee who have attended the informal conference today said that the members will stand pat on the substitute.

After the conference with members of his committee who voted for the substitute, Mr. Wadsworth discussed the matter with Speaker Cannon. It is pointed out by Representatives Adams (Wis.), Brooks (Colo.) and Lorimer (Ill.), members of the committee, that lack of night inspectors to which the president calls attention as being a fault has been prepared for in the paragraphs of the bill. In one place the language is "said inspectors shall have access at all times to every part of said establishment."

In another, referring to the inspection to be made, the language is: "During the night time as well as during the daytime when the slaughtering of said cattle, sheep, swine and goats or the preparation of said food products is conducted during the night time."

ADD MEAT INSPECTION WASH.

After the conference between Speaker Cannon, Chairman Wadsworth and other members of the house committee on agriculture was asked regarding the situation and had this to say:

"I do not care to discuss for publication the report of the house committee on agriculture touching meat inspection. It is now pending before the house and will receive safe and sound consideration. I am satisfied that before congress adjourns legislation will be provided to insure proper inspection of the world's

SOUTHERN PACIFIC CO. INCREASES ITS CAPITAL

Great Volume of Business Is Done at West Oakland Yards and Many New Men Employed.

Never before in the history of the Southern Pacific Company has there been such a volume of business done as at present is being carried on in all departments of the railroad yards in West Oakland.

Where one man was formerly employed fifty are now added to the company's payroll. In the Kirkham street warehouse and freight sheds alone one hundred and forty freight-handlers are at work where there were but four in times past. And despite the increase in help in all departments all employees are working over time in order that the congested condition of affairs may be cleared up.

In the West Oakland yards today there are 2100 cars, not including the hundreds of sleeping cars, day coaches, chair cars and diners that go to make up the local and overland trains. Of the 2100 freight cars in the yards at present 1700 are loaded with freight from all sections of the country and 400 are empties.

TRACKS CROWDED.

Every available track is crowded and they are numerous, there being tracks numbered as high as sixty-three; one hundred with names and at least twenty designated by both names and numbers. Twenty switch engines are brought into play and about one hundred cars are being emptied and moved each day. Despite this fact loaded cars are daily coming in and the number of these in the yards remains at about 1400.

The majority of this increase in the work is of course due to the influx of business men who have been obliged to take up headquarters on this side of the bay since the recent disaster, but the steady growth of Oakland and the arrival of business men from all sections who have settled here permanently irrespective of conditions in San Francisco adds much to the already large business being transacted in the local yards.

FREIGHT SLIP.

The congestion of freight stuffs in the Kirkham street warehouse has been pretty well cleared up as the boxes, bales and bundles which up to but a few days ago filled it had way to the ceiling, have been removed to the new freight sheds and warehouses across the street. The original warehouse on Kirkham street is now being used only for outboard freight while the incoming freight which is not distributed directly from the cars to trucks is being stored in the new buildings.

The new freight slip south of the broadgauge mole is now in full operation and much of the freight is handled between this city and San Francisco by this means. In fact, every car of any description and every freight boat owned and operated by the Southern Pacific is in commission and there would be business for more if there was space in which to handle them.

EMERGENCY HOSPITAL.

There is now under course of construction in close proximity to the yardmaster's office, a new and modern emergency hospital for the use of the company. It will be up-to-date in all its appointments and a nurse will be in attendance day and night. There is at present one emergency hospital in the yards, but a more modern institution if this description will better meet the needs of the company.

Although the hospital, which is to be a one-story structure, will be rushed to completion, there has been but little call for medical aid in the yards for some weeks past despite the fact that the yards are simply crowded with rolling stock and that the danger of accidents has been greatly increased by the immense addition of new business.

As loaded cars are arriving as fast or faster than the so-called empties are disposed of, those in charge of the work in different departments in the yards can see no end to the overcrowded condition of affairs. It would take weeks to even dispose of the loads of freight before now even if none others arrived. There will be no decrease in the help employed for some time to come.

TANGLED BY A NEW LAW

Lawyers Postpone Land Cases On Account of Recent Enactment.

A legal technicality sprung by Attorney Dudley Kinsell in the probate department of the superior court this morning in the recently enacted law passed by the legislature which provides for the extending of the statute of limitations has resulted in the delaying of many probate matters until after July 12. The more conservative attorneys refused to proceed with any matters relating to affairs involving land titles. The matter was not one for judicial decision and those who wished to proceed with their cases were allowed to do so and take the chances of complications later on.

The law passed by the legislature upon this subject reads as follows: "Section 1. Any act or proceeding appointed, required or limited by or in pursuance of law to be performed or taken on any day or within any time in the month of June, 1906, prior to the last day of said month, may be performed or taken on any day not later than the 10th day of July, A. D. 1906, with the same effect as if it had been performed or taken on the day or within the time wherein such act or proceeding was so appointed, required or limited to be performed. The provisions of this act shall not apply to original actions."

The point made by Kinsell was that in fixing the time for the probating of a will, the act of real estate or any such matters, any parties interested in the transaction might come in later on and claim that under the provision of the law they had until July 12 in which to make their appearance. Fearing the complications that might arise Kinsell refused to go on with fifteen probate matters he had on the calendar, and others took the same view of the matter.

Judge T. W. Harris, who was sitting in the probate department, stated that it was for the attorneys to decide what they wished to do with their cases. The matter is calculated to cause considerable confusion and there is an opportunity for attorneys afterwards to take advantage of a technicality to upset orders made at the present time.

Chairman Wadsworth has written a letter to President Roosevelt in reply to that received from him last night.

University Expedition Secures Valuable Skeletons of Indians.

BERKELEY, June 15.—An expedition recently sent from the department of anthropology of the university of California to Mendocino county for the purpose of obtaining the remains of the Pomo Indians inhabiting that section has returned with five complete skeletons besides a number of partial remains and a large quantity of beads and other objects buried with the dead. These are the first skulls or skeletons of the Pomo Indians of this time and the physical relationship with the other Indians of the state. Under ordinary circumstances the Pomo Indians have always practiced cremation, instead of burial, which accounts for the almost universal loss of their remains. They were a people of medium stature, with heavy round skulls, differing markedly from some of their neighbors of short height and unusually long heads. It is planned at the first opportunity to extend the knowledge regarding them by a large series of measurements and photographs of living individuals of their race. It is expected that this determination of the physical characteristics of the Indians will give much information as to their origin, connections and migrations that cannot be obtained by a study of their language and customs.

RICH FIND MADE AT THE GOLD REGION

LEADVILLE, Col., June 15.—Rich find, amounting from two to forty ounces of gold, has been found on the Tennessee fork of the Arkansas river about seven miles west of this city, and it is predicted by mining men that the discovery will result in the making of a new gold district that may rival Cripple Creek. The district, so far as explored, appears to be two miles wide by six miles in length. The first discovery was made several days ago, but the finders kept it a secret until they had made all the locations they wanted to treat. The discovery has been caused here by the discovery and many miners have gone to the new field in the hope of securing claims.

GUilty OF BATTERY.—Herbert L. Winkle, a druggist, who a few days ago ran down and seriously injured J. J. Silva on Market street with his heavy Winton touring car, was this morning found guilty of battery by Police Judge Shortall. Sentence was deferred until tomorrow.

Silva was taken to the city and county hospital after being struck and was only able to leave that institution two days ago.

Winkle said that he had not been operating his car very long and was not an experienced chauffeur. The court held that ignorance of his machine did not excuse him and adjudged him guilty of technical battery.

RESUMES CONSIDERATION.—WASHINGTON, June 15.—The house today resumed consideration of the sundry civil appropriation bill.

BROTHERS ARE STILL FIGHTING

August Mangin Must Take His Case to the Supreme Court.

If August Mangin proposes to keep his younger brother Eugene Mangin out of his share of their father's estate any longer he must now take his case to the supreme court. Judge Waste this morning denied the motion for a new trial in the case and attorneys Carey Howard and J. B. Howard for the defeated brother were given time in which to prepare a bill of exceptions.

Upon the death of the elder Mangin the son, August, filed a will purporting to give him the entire estate of the deceased, amounting to some $20,000, and ignoring the younger son Eugene. The will was contested and the younger brother was given a verdict by a jury which entitles him to one-half of the estate. The brother still proposes to rest upon his rights and besides this also has deeded to the property which also must be set aside through process of court before Eugene can get the benefit of the decision so far as the reality is concerned. There are, however, several thousands of dollars worth of cash which he hopes to be able to get immediate possession of.

IN FAVOR OF GROCERY CROC

Committee Waits on Mayor Schmitz and Makes Request.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 15.—A committee from the Retail Grocers' Association, headed by J. M. Sullivan and J. Solomon, waited on Mayor Schmitz this morning and discussed the question of the corner grocery with the bar attached. They presented to the mayor their reason for wishing conditions as they existed before the fire to remain as far as possible unchanged. "We told the mayor," said Mr. Sullivan, "that all we wished was fair treatment. If the new high license goes into effect there would be a considerable injustice done the small grocer. For instance, a large grocery firm that sells by the quart often sells $30.00 worth of liquor a year, which is very much more than a small dealer could sell. Yet the large grocer does not pay a single cent license. Under the present program the corner grocer will have to pay $100 or more a quarter for the privilege of selling less liquor than the big stores that sell by the quart only."

"We are willing to pay a license but we wish everyone compelled to do so that we can level the playing field."

Mayor Schmitz assured the committee that he would take their arguments up and consider them. The mayor at the same time reiterated his opposition to the corner grocery with the bar adjoining.

NEW YORK MARKET.

NEW YORK, July 15.—Traders who bought around the low figures took profits and the market weakened again. Reading was the only important stock to establish a new level at 131 1/4. Moderate buying orders appeared after a while and St. Paul and Union Pacific, Amalgamated Copper and several others rebounded 1 and Reading 2 points.

KNIFE PLAY CAUSE OF ARREST

Harry Schmidt, Ball Player, Assaults a Saloon Man.

Enraged because he had been prevented from leaving the state without paying a bill of seventy-five dollars, Harry Schmidt, better known as "Schmidt," a well known member of the Oakland baseball team, last night made a vicious attack on Lester G. Morris, proprietor of the Parlor saloon, and when the latter proved too much for him in a physical encounter, drew a ten knife from his pocket, and attempted murder. Morris at once placed Schmidt under arrest, and turned him over to Police Officer Thorwald Brown, who booked the ballplayer at the police station on a charge of disturbing the peace.

A more serious charge will be placed against Schmidt later, however, Morris having expressed his determination to charge the baseball man with assault with a deadly weapon, unless he settles the bill which he owes without further trouble. Schmidt was arraigned in Department 1 of the police court this morning, and the case was continued, pending the filing of a complaint.

Schmidt has for some time been promising that he would pay the money owed to Morris, but yesterday the latter learned that the ballplayer had signed with Memphis, Tenn., baseball club, and was about to leave Oakland for the southern city. Morris at once secured an order restraining Schmidt from leaving the city until he had settled his financial account with him, and the attachment was served through Attorney Tom Bradley.

Shortly before 6 o'clock Schmidt entered the Parlor saloon, and began to abuse Morris for his action. Morris ordered the man out of the place, and then it was that Schmidt attacked his creditor. Morris easily overpowered Schmidt, who had attacked him in the cigar store in front of the saloon, and when the latter was released, he drew a knife and attempted to carve Morris. The latter promptly had the ballplayer arrested, and turned him over to Officer Brown.

TWO EXTRA JURORS IN PEMBROKE CASE

The jury selected to try Percy Pembroke, charged with the murder of Thomas Cook out at Fruitvale, was completed last evening, besides which two extra jurors were drawn, upon the order of Judge Waste, to guard against the possible illness of any of the jurors. The jury as it now stands is composed of the following: Henry W. Koopman, J. T. Machado, J. A. McCall, Edward Greene, Thomas Cline, Emanuel Grant, John J. Blane, C. J. Allen, E. Haas, Edward Atwell, and W. B. Dexter. The alternates are C. P. Van Dyke and E. F. Miller.

PROFESSOR WOLLE IS VISITING AT CORONADO

BERKELEY, June 15.—Doctor J. Fred Wolle, professor of music in the University of California and conductor of the University orchestra, who has been staying at San Francisco with his wife and daughter, has gone to Coronado and will return to Berkeley in a few days for the final rehearsals for the symphony concert to be given in the gymnasium at 3:30 p. m. on Thursday, June 23. Most of the program for the day has already been rehearsed by the University orchestra. Doctor Wolle is preparing also the program for the second and third symphony concerts to be given on July 15 and 16.

The Average Man

meets temptation three-quarters of the way, according to a modern sermon I am reading. But what about the under-average and above-average men? Do the former meet it half way, or does the latter all the way, or does the perfect man kick it out of the way? I guess there are no "perfect men." Mrs. Minister says not, but she often speaks of Lehnhardt as a very superior man—in his line, of course. She and I meet temptation all the way when it comes to the daily dinners and dinner trimmings that Lehnhardt passes out.

EVIDENCE AGAINST WOMAN

Witness Tells of Hearing Sound in Mrs. Ledoux's Rooms.

STOCKTON, June 15.—The prosecution continues to pile up evidence against Mrs. Emma McVicar-Ledoux, charged with the murder of her former husband. In response to hypothetical questions involving the facts adduced by the testimony of the doctors and the chemists, coupled with the conditions found in McVicar's body, together with the results of the chemical analysis, Drs. Southworth, Hull and Latta declared their firm opinion that the death of the deceased was due to morphine poisoning.

The defense has not given up probing for cyanide of potassium, in keeping with the theory that McVicar suicided by means of that drug, but the cross-examination of the physicians seemed only to strengthen the case of the prosecution. The physicians declared that none of the symptoms of cyanide poisoning were present, while all the symptoms of morphine poisoning were present.

TO MAKE CHANGES IN POSTAL LAWS.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 15.—The committee appointed by the National Editorial Association to investigate the postal laws of the United States and make recommendations, reported favorably to a modification of the present rule of obtaining a fraud order. The committee made an exhaustive report, covering in part the whole question of second class postage.

SURPRISE VISITS TO THE FACTORIES.

LONDON, June 14.—When asked in the House of Commons today what precautions had been taken to see that British army contractors used sound meat in the manufacture of canned meats, War Secretary Haldane replied that no current army contracts were held by British makers. When contracts were held by British subjects army officers paid surprise visits to the factories and took samples, which were submitted to a government analysis.

Mr. Lea, liberal, suggested that Mr. Haldane send trained officers on surprise visits to American packing houses, while William Redmond raised a laugh by suggesting that there was plenty of room for improvement at home, and asking for information regarding what quantities of tinned meats and other provisions supplied by British firms were condemned during the Boer war.

WHITE ANIMALS CAN'T SMELL.
"Pure white animals" said a pet stock dealer, "have no sense of smell. Hence they are continually eating things that disagree with them, and in eight cases out of ten the poison themselves and die."

"Pure white pigs should never be allowed to run loose in the fields and woods. For without the protection of sense of smell such pigs, when they get out, eat all sorts of poisonous roots and berries and die off rapidly."

"In Africa the white rhinoceros poisons itself by eating the uphorbia, and pure white sheep are difficult to rear because they are continually munching shrubs and grasses that don't agree with them."

MINISTERS CALL ON SCHMITZ

Ask Him Not to Recede From Position on Saloon Issue.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 15.—A delegation of ministers waited on Mayor Schmitz yesterday and urged the city's chief executive to not retreat from the position he has taken on the liquor question.

HE WAS ROBBED BY HIS FRIEND.

Robert Peters, an employee of the United States railway postal service, reported to the police a few days ago that he had been robbed of $60 by a man giving the name of Charles Brandt. Peters said that he had met Brandt, who claimed to be a ship carpenter, last Sunday, and that after making a round of several saloons in Oakland, had gone with his new acquaintance to a saloon in Fruitvale. Kept, as nearly as Peters could remember, by a man named T. Hunter.

Peters said that Brandt had taken $60 out of his pocket while they were in the Fruitvale saloon, saying that he would take it for safe keeping and return it to Peters the next day, agreeing to meet him at a saloon owned by a man named McDonald, on lower Broadway. Brandt failed to appear and Peters reported the matter to the police.

GOLD FOUND AT GRASS ROOTS.

Many Rich Strikes Reported on the South Side of Mount McKinley, SEWARD, Alaska.—Gold is found at the grass roots in many places of the Yukone district, particularly on some of the new creeks of the Upper Kachilana and Lake Creek, which have been prospected since the beginning of the year. At least 300 men are now in the district and all are busy prospecting and mining.

This is the report brought down by John A. McDonald, who with D. H. Chuklin arrived in Seward last night. They left the headquarters of the Yukone April 22, and came straight through with the exception of a stay of two days at the lower end of Lake Creek as they came past. Water was running over the ice on the Yukone and they were obliged to wade part of the way. It was slushy traveling all the way from Lake Creek to Knik and the Little p.

It was the opinion of Frank Churchill at Seward station that the rivers will be clear about May 20. Mr. McDonald has been in the Yukone district since last fall with the exception of a few weeks in the winter when he came outside. He left here in February the last time and since has been on most of the explored creeks of the district. While no mining has been done since last summer experimental panning has shown good indications everywhere and Mr. McDonald says the miners are all extremely sanguine of results. A majority of them are experienced in placer mining and many of them are Alaska sourdoughs, who know what they are trying to do.

On a majority of the creeks there is timber enough for all purposes. It is usually small. On some of the higher creeks particularly the upper Kachilana there is no timber and the men located there have had a hard job sledding timber up for the summer's work from the lower end of the main creek.

WANTS A PLACE FOR THE DEAD

Coroner Walsh Seeking New Quarters for Headquarters.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 15.—Coroner Walsh is very desirous of obtaining new quarters for the morgue, which at the present time is located at the corner of Grove and Laguna streets. The morgue itself is located on the street. There are no accommodations for the city's dead aside from a few rudely constructed slabs of board. Dr. Walsh has requested the supervisors for an appropriation of $5000 to build a permanent morgue and urges that the appropriation be passed on the ground of safety of the public.

Dr. Walsh has taken the matter up with Mayor Schmitz and has urged that a new building to be the permanent morgue be erected. In giving his reasons for requesting the appropriation at the present time the coroner says:

"Where is liability that the bodies that must of necessity be cared for at the emergency morgue may spread contamination. The morgue is located on the street and in close proximity to many pedestrians that pass the place daily. In event of many bodies having to be cared for it is possible that a serious contagion might be started. To prevent any such occurrence I have asked the supervisors for an appropriation to build a permanent morgue."

GERM OF TYPHUS FOUND.
Dr. Ignacio Prieto has lately submitted to the academy of medicine a very valuable treatise giving a detailed account of his investigations and researches into the existence and origin of the typhus bacillus.

Dr. Prieto has not only limited himself to the study of the micro-organism and the individual cases of the bacilli, but he has also investigated it by a series of very interesting and efficient experiments by injections in animals, especially dogs, rabbits and cats.

The results obtained after a certain amount of bacilli have been injected in the systems of animals has shown noteworthy symptoms, such as rise in temperature, spots on the body, stomach and ears, and shaking spells. After autopsy the subjects have been found to be suffering from congestion of the brain and pneumonia, these being the disorders most apparent in the bodies of those who have succumbed to typhus.

From those observations made up to the present time by the doctor, he has proved that the dog is the most sensitive to this particular inoculation, and quickly succumbs to the action of the bacilli.

Dr. Prieto, with a view to perfecting his studies, has now sent for a number of monkeys which he considers will prove to be the most suitable subjects for experimental work. The reaction in the case of these animals is claimed to closely resemble that condition among human beings.

CHINESE DIES IN PRESENCE OF CROWD

Crushed Under Wheels of a Car and Could Not Be Quickly Removed.

Suffering untold agony, with his body pinned beneath the wheels which had crushed both his legs, Hui Wo Gook, a Chinese shrimp fisherman lay for more than an hour under a Twelfth street electric car, and when finally released was so weak from loss of blood that he died on the way to the receiving hospital. For forty-five minutes the wrecking crew of the Oakland Traction Company, furnished with no other equipment for raising the heavy car than two small jacks and a few bars, labored to release the dying man when the work should have occupied not more than ten minutes.

Several times the crowd which surrounded the car, driven almost to frenzy by the piteous moans of the injured Chinaman, who throughout the terrible ordeal remained conscious until the arrival of a physician who administered an opiate to relieve his pain, threatened to hurl the car body by from the rails, but each time they were restrained by the assurance that the man would be free in "just a minute more." A number of carmen expressed their willingness to aid in the raising of the car, but they were ordered by Inspector Melale of the Traction Company, who seemed to fear that he would be held responsible for any damage to the car, to keep their hands off.

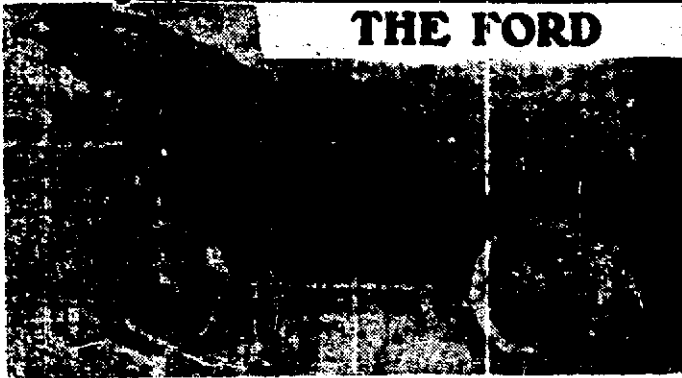

Gook had, a few minutes before the accident which resulted in his death, boarded eastbound Twelfth street car No. 198. He asked the motorman if the car went to West Oakland, and being told that he had boarded the wrong car, started to get off the car while it was in motion. Motorman C. N. Adams, who with Conductor B. Musty was in charge of the car, told Gook to wait until the car stopped.

WHO KNOWS ABOUT THESE ADDRESSES.
The following letter was received yesterday by Chief of Police Wilson from Constable W. D. Hyde of Benicia. Chief Wilson now has the local detectives investigating the case to determine whether anyone is missing who is known to those whose addresses are given in the letter:

"BENICIA, June 13, 1906.
"Chief of Police, Oakland, Cal., Dear Sir: There was found on the beach at Benicia on June 12, '06, a coat and vest, and a memorandum book with the name of Sloper, London.

William McKeany, 325 Ninth street, Oakland; also addresses in the book of William Gauge, 473 Twenty-fourth street, Oakland; Ed. 483 Thirty-seventh street, Oakland; Austin, 102 Broadway, Oakland. The coat was a dark sack coat with red and white stripes; vest brownish color with white stripes. A corncob pipe and a black-handled knife. As the water is very shallow where these clothes were found and no body found, I thought I would inform you of the facts. Yours truly,
"W. D. HYDE,

THE FORD

The several things a prospective purchaser of an automobile should demand is a car's ability to carry a full load of passengers over the roughest grades and rough roads with ease and comfort; to possess the most ample power, simplicity in construction, simplicity in operation and control, with the least cost of operation and maintenance. The real pleasure of motoring is the easy riding and perfect control of your car. THE FORD covers these points more perfectly than any car on the market. Owners of a FORD are to a unit in above statement and praise. It has a latitude speed of 2 to 40 miles per hour on higher gear. These are one thousand and one reasons for these statements. One to them are true.

McDONALD'S TRIAL GOES ON MONDAY

At the termination of yesterday's proceedings in the trial of Al C. McDonald before Judge Ellsworth and a jury for the murder of Joseph Mello of Pleasanton, the case was continued until next Monday morning. The last witness called was Dr. C. A. Case, who was summoned to the aid of the wounded man but found him dead upon his arrival at the house. He said that he helped Mello's body off the floor and place it upon a lounge. Frank Neils and one of the most important witnesses, having been the first man to reach the side of the deceased, will be called Monday morning.

FITZ'S LION NEARLY HANDED

In his efforts to get out of a small wooden inclosure that had been built to house him temporarily, Senator, the pet lion of Bob Fitzsimmons, sent many of the spectators at the hospital carnival in Plainfield, N. J., in an uproar Saturday night. The animal tried to climb over the fence, but the chain holding him was not long enough to let him get to the ground on the other side and he hung suspended for several minutes slowly choking to death.

The lion howled and struggled desperately. Fire Chief T. O. Doane, with the assistance of several policemen, unloosed a runway cable to which the animal's chain was attached, causing him to drop to the ground.

By that time the lion was nearly dead, and pails of water were dashed in his face to restore him. Senator was just showing signs of life when "Fitz" appeared in response to a messenger call.

THE WILD BEASTS OF NEW YORK CITY.

As a matter of fact it is not very generally known that wild trout may be taken and wild game killed within the corporate limits of New York city. Certainly I have found but few that seemed to know that fact and not always for the purpose, but the genuine wild reynard, are chased on Staten Island. This city limits are very extended. A good slice is taken off at Westchester county at the north—the whole of the end of Long Island at the east, while State island entire is included at the south. There are wooded districts within these boundaries—brushy hills and swampy thickets—some of them well-nigh inaccessible. There are fresh water streams and lakes, and there are vast areas of salt water; also, there are wide-set meadows or marsh lands where the waters of ocean and bay and sound sweep long ago where salt creeks and inlets still make and ebb with the tide. Such haunts as these are ideal, and the creatures that have held them against three centuries of civilization are not to be easily driven away—Albert Bigelow Faine in June Metropolitan.

An accounting in the matter of the estate of the late Edward Connell, deceased, over which there was to have been a contest, which however was dismissed a few days ago, shows the property to be worth $28,751.63. Of this amount $9750 is in cash and the balance is the value placed on bonds of the city of Boston valued at $17,922.15.

An order was made this morning by Judge W. E. Waite appointing C. H. Schenck, R. C. Beach and C. G. Walter, appraisers of the estate of the late William Connell.

An accounting filed by W. H. Donahue of Pleasanton, as executor of the estate of the late Frank Lewis, shows that all of the realty has been converted into cash, realizing $8 and that he expended on account of the estate the sum of $5226.63.

Legislator From Boston to Be Expelled From the House.

BOSTON, June 15.—The expulsion of Frank G. The committee finds that Gethro approached other members of the house and tried to influence them improperly by suggesting a money reward for their votes against the so-called bucketshop bill, which was defeated at the present session.

THE LATEST INDIANA WONDER.

Astonishing Effect of Wiltach's Thought Machine on Literary Hoosierdom.

Frank J. Wiltach, minister plenipotentiary in behalf of Miss Viola Allen, inventor of the Indian Thought Machine, and First Prize Word-Juggler, is in Detroit on business. He is in the business—Paul, Claxton and Frank. Paul is business manager and literary adviser for Richard Mansfield and author of several plays, including the Tim Murphy comedy, "Rufus". Claxton has charge of the bookings of all the Shubert theaters and companies, and is stationed in New York. Paul and Frank are necessarily nomads, and all the brothers hall from Lafayette, Ind. They were working on a play when George Ade, George Barr McCutcheon, Booth Tarkington and a few other Hoosier headlamps were about the place.

Frank Wiltach's "Thought Machine" is perhaps the most extraordinary product that Indiana can boast. It reveals the secret of the enormous literary output of that progressive commonwealth. One needs but to make acquaintance with the title page to be convinced of the fact. It is in words following:

INDIANA THOUGHT MACHINE; or The Literary Harvester. Ball bearing and air cooled! Being a Mental Kalsommer.

Rhetorical Decorator, and Intellectual Upholsterer. Kept in repair for one year! In it will be discovered Scented Sentiments.

Winner of the endurance contest, Kokomo to South Bend! It is especially designed for the use of Embossed Mentalities.

Stuccoed Thinkers, and American Roads. Drips Rhetorical Pearls! Sliding gear transmission! Shaft Drive! A machine that is right!

A fount of figured fluency! This machine appears to be devastating Indiana. Once tested fields are no longer tilled, the plow has been abandoned to rust; the mowing and thrashing machines stand idle by the roadside overgrown with mayweed; and the cattle are left unattended, for everybody that has been able to obtain possession of the machine has turned poet, essayist or novelist.

The Wiltach Thought Machine is a more destructive monster than Frankenstein. Indians are in the place where it was brought to light, and the devastation there is indescribable. Grass grows in the streets, the trolley cars stand motionless in the car houses; horses are unshod, and the cooks have ceased to be cooks, like the dwellers in that Philadelphia graveyard of which Longfellow gives us an account in "Evangeline".

The immediate explanation of this defection of the cooks is the fact that all the three-chained modern, blacksmiths and policemen have turned authors and no longer haunt kitchen doors. The only moving things are printing presses and the Wiltach Thought Machine.

GENERAL GRANT'S JOKE.

Elliot M. Miller, a civil engineer of New Orleans, tells how General U. S. Grant made Chaplain Miller swear.

It was one of the chaplain's duties to receive and distribute the mail to General Grant's staff. Whenever the mail was late he was greatly annoyed by questions as to the cause of the delay; time of probable arrival, etc.

On one occasion, when the post was unusually late, the chaplain, for fear of losing his temper, attached the following notice to the door of his tent:

"The chaplain does not know when the mail will arrive. He does not know when the mail will arrive."

Shortly afterwards General Grant, passing the chaplain's quarters, noticed the sign. He paused before it a moment and then walked slowly on his way. Coming out of his tent a few moments later, Chaplain Miller was horrified to read:

"The chaplain does not know when the mail will arrive and he doesn't give a damn."—Harper's Weekly.

REBEL CHIEF KILLED.

DURBAN, Natal, June 15.—It is now definitely known that the rebel chief Bambata, the cause of all the recent troubles, was killed in the fighting which occurred June 10. His death had previously been reported and denied, but Bambata's body has been fully identified. The revolt is now expected to speedily die out.

PEOPLE WILL NOT REMAIN

Americans Do Not Like Manila for Permanent Home.

MANILA, June 15.—The average European is content to live and die east of Suez; the average American is not, although under improved conditions he might be prevailed upon to do so.

Thus begins the annual report of Executive Secretary A. W. Ferguson to Governor General Wood. Mr. Ferguson says that conditions have not improved to a great extent during the past year, and the executive bureau is having trouble in securing Americans who will remain in the service. The grade of men coming from the United States is considerably below that of the standard of the clerical forces sent here several years ago. Although the executive bureau has been established four years, the office force of 137 persons includes only five Americans. The Filipino members are the original personnel of the office.

"The great stumbling block," says Mr. Ferguson, "is that few Americans intend to make the Philippines their home or stay on the island for an extended period."

FEDERAL SERVICE.

"This condition," he continues, "can be overcome by making Philippine appointments a permanent means of livelihood, by providing an effective system of transfer to the federal service after a reasonable period of service here. It is believed that if the conditions in respect to transfer are arranged as suggested, there will be no difficulty in securing Americans well qualified for the ordinary duties performed in the higher grades of the service. It is believed that it will be to the advantage of the government to try and induce Americans to come out here unless something permanent is offered them at the expiration of a reasonable term."

CIVIL SERVICE.

"As I am convinced that a permanent civil service under present conditions is entirely out of the question, it is suggested that we secure the most competent men for a limited period, that each American be given the right of transfer to the federal service upon application, accompanied by a certificate of eligibility for transfer, the United States civil service and the insular civil service co-operating in procuring the transfer. Or the government might place Americans in the insular service on the same footing as clerks in the war department, serving in military offices in the Philippines, sending them out for temporary duty only. Either system will benefit the insular service."

In conclusion the report says that the Filipino employees have shown marked capacity and a desire to increase their store of knowledge, and has been demonstrated that under proper supplies they can perform original work of high character.

When a new election law is enacted in Missouri it should carry with it a provision for grouping the names of candidates under the names of the offices instead of under the political party headings. In this way can be secured more intelligent voting.—Walter Williams in the Columbia Herald.

RESPECT BOONE'S MEMORY

Pioneer Attend Ceremony.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 15.—As yesterday was given over by the "home-coming" jubilee to the memory of Stephen C. Foster, so today was for the greater part devoted to Daniel Boone.

The great floral parade took place today.

The glorification of Daniel Boone came later in the parade. About a dozen floral displays of the great pioneer were present.

The statue of Boone, modeled by Miss Elna Yandell, of Louisville, and presented to the city of Louisville by C. C. Bicknell, was unveiled. Brockridge Castleman, of Louisville, made the presentation address for Mr. Bicknell and the acceptance for the board of park commissioners was made by Colonel Darrett.

After the unveiling former Vice-President Adlai E. Stevenson, orator of the day, spoke, and following the ceremonies at the Boone statue, a picture of one of the many stirring events in the life of Boone was given in another part of the park.

A stronghold situated upon the summit of a small elevation and called Fort Boone's borough, was attacked by Indians, who were on the point of capturing and annihilating the garrison when the swarms of pioneers, led by Boone in person, arrived in time to save the fort and its inmates.

Tonight the grand ball for which elaborate preparations have been made will be held. Twenty thousand invitations have been issued.

OIL HEARING IN MISSOURI CALLED

ST. LOUIS, June 15.—The oil bearing in the Missouri quarter suit before Special Commissioner Anthony, postponed because of the absence of H. Clay Pierce, the principal witness, was again postponed until afternoon because Special Commissioner Anthony was delayed in arriving from Fredericktown.

Mr. Pierce is still in New York and the Waters-Pierce Oil Company attorneys stated he would not be here at this time.

Attorney-General Hadley is not here today, but the state is represented by Assistant Attorney-General Rush C. Latta.

"When the hearing is resumed this afternoon," said Mr. Latta, "I will request the court to issue an attachment for the person of Mr. Pierce. Of course such process is not operative outside the state, but I will have the process served upon the attorneys for the company. In event that the process is ignored and Mr. Pierce is not produced, the penalty provides that the arrest of the respondent in the case be stricken from the file."

MINERS VOTE FOR THE COMPROMISE

FORT SMITH, Ark., June 15.—The tellers completed the count here today of the referendum vote by the southwestern coal miners on the question of accepting the proposed compromise with the operators.

The agreement, affecting Arkansas, Indian territory and Missouri, was carried by 1400, a majority of about two-thirds. The Kansas miners had previously favored the agreement.

RIVALRY IS DEATH OF GRAFT

Three Towns That Work for Better Streets and Lower Taxes.

PENNSBURG, Pa., June 15.—The most remarkable triplet towns in America are Pennsburg, East Greenville and Red Hill, situated in the fertile Perkiomen valley. The towns adjoin each other so closely that a stranger thinks them one, and although each has only about 1500 inhabitants, no city in the state can show a finer public spirit than they possess, individually and collectively.

Most remarkable of all, "graft" is not only unknown, but it is non-existent. Public offices are not sought by citizens, but the office invariably seeks the man. The result of this is that each of the towns is a picture of prosperity, where partisan politics is so far in the background that it cannot be discerned. Factories are being built so rapidly that local capital is unable to build houses fast enough to fill the demands of those who desire to become citizens.

RIVALRY AMONG TOWNS.

For years there has been a gentle rivalry among the towns. Years ago East Greenville, then a hamlet of several hundred, laid brick sidewalks. Pennsburg, to rival its neighbor, laid flagging and crowded over its superior until Red Hill voted for cement walks. Since then Pennsburg and East Greenville, rather than let Red Hill retain the honors alone, have laid cement walks, too.

Thus year after year the three towns have been improved until now all have fine waterworks, sewers, macadamized streets, excellently kept, and sanitation that keeps the death rate below two per cent a year.

TRYING FOR LOWER RATES.

The three towns are now engaged in a race to see which can throw out the old street lamps and adopt a new lighting system in the shortest time. East Greenville has contracted for an acetylene plant and Pennsburg is about to vote for an electric plant. Red Hill, anxious to do better than either of its rivals, is waiting to see how the other plants will work and hopes to profit by their mistakes.

Efforts have been made to consolidate the three boroughs, but fear that taxes would increase has always killed the project. As the towns are conducted, and there is a rivalry in the matter of taxes, too, each tries every year to have a lower rate than the others. The agreement of the officials is that low taxes will bring industries where other attractions would fail.

BURGLARY CASE.

The preliminary examination of Henry Phillips, charged with burglary, was begun before Police Judge Samuels this morning, and after hearing the testimony offered by the prosecution the judge continued the case to June 22 for further examination.

DIVORCE AGITATES ENGLAND

Prominent People Taking Sides Over the Question.

LONDON, June 15.—England is banking after the Dakota divorce. The president of the divorce court, Sir Gorell Barnes, has raised a pretty bow-dye-do by his official expressed opinion that the "judicial separation" of married persons has a deplorable effect upon the public morals and is a direct encouragement of loose living.

The power was vested in magistrates by the parliamentary act of 1895 to order the permanent separation of married couples, but without leaving them at liberty to marry again. Most people agree with Sir Gorell that unless this separation is followed by absolute divorce it is an undignified evil. Sir Gorell Barnes thinks divorce should be made easier and less costly in order that poor persons might find more rational solution of their marital difficulties.

CHURCH OPPOSES PRESENT LAW

Dr. Sinclair, archdeacon of London, has thus expressed the attitude of the church on this question:

"The Church of England has long been dissatisfied with the law of divorce."

"A very large number of the clergy look upon marriage as indissoluble, and, of course, there is one section which regards divorce as a necessary evil, to be minimized as much as possible."

"They, therefore, would pay great attention to the warning of the president of the divorce court, against divorce being lightly and easily obtained, or lax enactments which would render marriage a less solemn contract."

"This is no doubt the case in some of the states of America, and the consequent social evils in such states are considerable."

"With regard to separation, many persons consider that husband and wife should remain together to the utmost limit of possibility, and that mutual separation is better than judicial."

"In Scotland wilful desertion for four years has been an additional claim to divorce, besides the breaking of the marriage."

"The Church of England would probably welcome the change suggested, which would place the sexes on an equality in the matter."

SARAH GRAND OPPOSES CHANGE.

"I am altogether against divorce except in very extreme cases," said Mrs. Sarah Grand, the novelist. "I cannot see where any good would be done in increasing facilities for divorce. On the contrary, I think a great deal of harm may be done. I think the Roman Catholic view of marriage is the highest. It is regarded by that community as the most sacred institution of life, and so it should be looked at by all people."

"If two persons marry knowing they can easily separate, they will never try to adapt themselves to each other. I know that in America all kinds of trivial excuses are made to obtain divorce which would never be suggested in this country. In America trifles are magnified unreasonably for the sake of securing divorce."

"One very distinguished man in this country told me that during the first year he was married both he and his wife would have made any excuse they could to have been divorced, but now, having been married twenty years, they are the greatest possible friends."

The only way out of the marriage mud is to train young people as they grow up to have the highest ideals of marriage, to regard it as a sacred institution, and not merely the indulgence of a fancy for each other. In justice to women, they should receive the same facilities to obtain divorce as men now possess, but beyond that I would certainly not make the present powers more elastic."

PASTOR CALLS DOWN
"PEEK-A-POO" WAISTS

ROCHESTER, Pa., June 15.—Social Rochester is in spasms. At St. Cecilia's Roman Catholic church the recent sermon of the pastor, the Rev. Father George M. A. Schoener, brought deep blushes to the faces of a few women present.

In the midst of a scathing arraignment of breezy feminine apparel, the pastor, among other things, said:

"This church is no place for the display of fancy gowns and peek-a-boo shirtwaists."

Looking squarely at two women of the congregation, the pastor said:

"Go home and take them off. This is no bathing resort."

CHOATE IS ORDERED TO TAKE REST CURE

NEW YORK, June 15.—Joseph H. Choate's health is such that his physician has ordered him to take summer home in the Berkshires with instructions to take a complete rest.

Consumption and Hemorrhages Cured

Doctors pronounced an incurable Miss Minnie Gilroy, of Morrison, Colo., who suffered agonies from consumption, hemorrhages, and severe coughing spells. She wasted away to a shadow and had given up all hope when she decided to try Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey.

Miss Gilroy began to improve at once and gained 15 pounds during the first two months. She is today happy, well and strong, and writes the following letter of thankfulness:

"I suffered for a long time with consumption and had terrible attacks of coughing and hemorrhages. I lost sleep and ran down. My breathing became difficult and painful, and the doctors pronounced me incurable. I decided at last to try Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey and procured a bottle. I began to improve at once and gained fifteen pounds in the first two months. My cough was relieved, the hemorrhages ceased and I now feel splendid in every way. I can sleep soundly and have no more trouble. I cannot say too much in praise of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, as it has permanently cured me after other medicines failed to do any good."—MINNIE GILROY, Morrison, Colo., November 21, 1905.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

cures coughs, colds, consumption, grip, bronchitis and pneumonia. It stimulates and enriches the blood, aids digestion, builds up the nerve tissues, tones up the heart and fortifies the system against disease germs. It prolongs life, keeps the old young and the young strong. It contains no fuses oil and is the only whiskey recognized as a medicine. This is a guarantee.

CAUTION.—When you ask for Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey be sure you get the genuine. Unscrupulous dealers, imitators of the contents of this preparation, will try to sell you cheap imitations and make whiskey substitutes, which are positively harmful. Demand "Duffy's" and be sure you get it. It is the only absolutely pure Malt Whiskey. Sold in small bottles only, never in bulk. Look for the trademark, the "Old Clock," on the label, and be certain the seal over the cork is broken and green, or direct, $1.00 a bottle. Retail bottles and dealers' advice free to any one. FALL MAKES HIM FORGET ALL HIS FRIENDS

BERKELEY, June 15.—One of the most peculiar cases that has come to the attention of the physicians of this town is that of H. C. Middleman, a West Berkeley carpenter who fell from a scaffolding on which he was working at the West Berkeley brewery about a month ago.

Although Middleman is now almost entirely recovered there was a space of two weeks where his mental faculties were seriously impaired. The injured man knew of his surroundings but he knew absolutely nothing of the past. He had even to be told what his name was, but beyond that he had no recollection of events before the time of his accident.

For a while Dr. J. J. Benton, the attending physician thought that Middleman had sustained permanent impairment of his mind. Slowly and gradually his memory returned and he no longer gasped and stared at his old friends and members of his family. Though the man is apparently well, Dr. Benton has forbidden both mental and physical activity for two weeks longer.

ANOTHER DANIEL

Several years ago the teacher of the infant class in a Brooklyn Sunday school asked a friend to take the class for her for two Sundays. The friend hesitated, on the score of inexperience, but yielded on being assured that she would not be asked to teach anything that her part would be merely to tell a Bible story to the children on Sunday, and let them repeat it to her on the following Sunday. She chose the story of Daniel, and was rewarded by breathless attention on the part of her hearers; but, being somewhat embarrassed by the newness of the situation, she finished by saying, "And now, children, perhaps some of you have heard this story before, and can tell me if I have left out anything." At this a hand was waved joyously, and a little name was Webster.—Harper's Magazine's voice piped out, "That man's other zioa."

SMALL CASES ARE REPORTED TO POLICE

Norman McLyun, who has been living at the home of G. W. Smith, at 1180 East Fourteenth street, was arrested last night, and booked at the police station as a runaway.

William Davis, residing at 236 Willow street, reported to the police that his Tribune bicycle had been stolen from the basement of the Western Union Telegraph company's office on June 13.

Joseph G. Chase, residing at 466 Hickory avenue, in San Francisco, has sought the aid of the local police in locating his eleven-year-old son Clement, who ran away from his home several days ago, and has not been seen since that time.

PROOF AND A WEDDING OF CONVICTS.

The story of a French prisoner's escape from Devil's Island, which the London and Paris police are at present investigating, almost passes belief. But stories are told of French penal settlements which eclipse even the tales emanating from Sing Sing. One came to light a few years ago—the story of a man and woman who desired to marry in a French convict settlement. "Did you not marry in France?" the priest inquired of the male prisoner. "Yes." "And your wife?" "She is dead," answered the man. "Have you any documentary proof to show that she is dead?" "I have not." "Well, you must produce some proof or I dare not marry you. You must convince me that your first wife no longer lives." There was an awkward pause; the man looked first at the bride-elect, then at the priest, and said to the latter, "I can prove that my wife is dead." "How can you do so?" said the priest. "I was sent here for killing her!" The wedding ceremony proceeded without delay.—London Sketch.

MOTHER-IN-LAW GETS BLAME

Mrs. Foote Granted a Divorce—
Her Husband Blames
Her Mother.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 15.—Josephine P. Foote was yesterday granted a divorce from Malvin M. Foote, a once prominent attorney of this city, on the ground of extreme cruelty. The Footes were married in Alameda on March 10, 1894, and lived together until March 10, 1902.

Mrs. Foote testified that her husband had beaten her many times prior to the separation and had in many other ways treated her with extreme cruelty. Since the separation, according to Mrs. Foote's testimony, he had not contributed one cent toward the support of their young son, Malvin Jr.

When asked where she obtained her support during those years she answered, "From dear mama."

The substance of Attorney Foote's testimony was that the breaking up of his home was due to too much mother-in-law. He explained to the court that his wife wanted to live with her mother, who kept boarders. He was strongly opposed to any such proceedings, alleging that whenever she went to her mother's home she had to work like a servant.

Foote at one time had nearly all the practice of the Chinese Six Companies, and was a man of considerable wealth. A short while ago, however, broken in health and fortune, he was an inmate of the city and county hospital.

After a hearing of all the testimony offered by the defense Judge Graham, after an earnest but fruitless endeavor at reconciliation, granted Mrs. Foote a divorce, and gave into her custody the minor son.

RARE LACES AT ART MUSEUM.

A Fine Collection Arranged by Mme. Kubasek of Vienna.

Mme. Stephanie Kubasek of Vienna, who was engaged by the Metropolitan Museum of Art to arrange its collection of laces, will open room 34 Monday, in which the laces have been placed. She is an expert in these textiles and has had charge of the arrangement of several notable collections.

Interestingly, therefore, is her opinion that while there are abroad larger collections of laces and containing more valuable pieces and even single pieces of greater beauty than the museum can show, it possesses what, as a whole, is the most beautiful collection extant.

Mme. Kubasek speaks fluent English with a slight but delightful accent and on the occasional use of a literary translated German term. In her own words, the great foreign collection of laces are "more dry" than ours. This doubtless is due to the fact that these collections were formed for museum purposes, whereas those in the museum came from individual donors and were selected to wear and therefore for their beauty.

Labels have been carefully prepared and will be put in place as soon as printed. The collection will then be found to have been chronologically arranged from examples of Coptic open work of the third century, to the lace of the province of Fayum, in Central Egypt, explored by Petrie, to lace such as is worn by New York women at the opera today.

Network, drawn work and cut work, nearly all the earlier European examples being ecclesiastical in character, one large piece showing the Holy Family, with such accessories as the Devil and his dog, the latter trimmed very much like a slight but delightful accent and on the occasional use of a literary translated German term. OBJECT TO TAXES LEVIED

Few of the Citizens of Berkeley
Up in Arms Over the Supposed Unfairness.

BERKELEY, June 15.—Because Town Assessor T. I. Wharf is obeying the law and making the tax rate the same as last year the people of Berkeley are in arms against him. They complain that the tax rate is higher than that of last year and in many cases they have refused to pay the paltry sums due the town. Objection after objection has been the lot of the conscientious assessor on the part of some few citizens who think that they are being robbed by the town official. Open fights have been the result in many cases, and in other instances the angry citizens say that they will fight the matter out in the courts.

"The trouble is, Wharf," says one morning, "that the people don't know that they are in reality helping out themselves. When I took hold of this office there was not the vestige of a system of collecting or even levying the taxes. The matter was all helter-skelter. I made myself familiar with the town ordinance in the levying and collecting of taxes and went about to levy them and make collections as provided for in that law."

"I met objections on all sides, although the people did not seem to know that they were paying the same rate of taxes that they did last year. I try to be square in carrying out the law and have so far succeeded. The kickers are the only ones who are heard. The people who pay their taxes as they should go out without a word."

"I shall still continue to do my duty and collect the taxes in accordance with ordinance of the town, which deals with the matter."

Champion Liar of the Universe.

Who is Earl Austin of Oakland? He is wanted for decoration as the biggest liar that ever came over the pike. He makes all the other Ananias and Munchausens look like thirty cents in Confederate money. However, we think that he hails from the State of Michigan, judging by the comparison he draws, and by the fact that he selects a Michigan paper as the medium for circulating the incubations of his lie-factory. Here is a letter that he sent to the Clare, Michigan, Sentinel, printed June 2nd, which is enough to make Lying Jim Townsend turn in his grave.

"Editor Sentinel: I will try and tell you something about the great earthquake, and fire caused by it, that recently occurred at San Francisco and surrounding country. None but those who were here and witnessed the awful tragedy will ever know one-half the horror of it, for the California people do not want the world to know how bad it was. I read in a Detroit paper a statement that there were only three hundred and fifty people killed and burned to death, but I have it from good authority that there was no less than twenty-five thousand.

"There were rooming houses in the city that contained as many as five hundred and fifty people at the time of the shock, which collapsed and penned them in so that all were burned.

"The first day the fire broke out they were using as a hospital the Mechanic's pavilion. The second day it caught fire with six or seven hundred injured in it. The nurses ran through the pavilion throwing chloroform right and left trying to put to sleep before the fire reached them those four or five hundred who were not able to walk.

"Going up Market street one could see the soldiers picking up dead bodies and throwing them on the piles of burning debris.

"I never saw such a sight and I never want to see such a one again.

"There were over four hundred and sixty-two blocks of the city burned.

"I will tell you what I think of California and the Californians. California has a fine climate and when that is said, all is said.

"There are the worst grafters on the face of the globe here. They also have a Lodge here called Native Sons and Daughters of the Golden West. No other State in the Union has one, it is believed, for no one but a native of California can belong. If it was not for the Eastern tourists they would starve here. I wouldn't take their word under oath. I would advise every poor man to stay away from this land of sunshine and fleas. Perhaps some do not know what fleas are, but they would soon find out if they came here. The fruit raised here is not one-half as good as Michigan fruit. Wages are better here than there, but the high prices we pay about even it up.

EARL AUSTIN.

"Oakland, Cal."

Now, what do you think of that? Twenty-five thousand killed, and soldiers throwing the bodies on the burning debris! But Lord love us, even such mammoth untruths have to shrink into a corner beside the statement that the nurses in the improvised hospitals at the Mechanic's Pavilion "chloroformed six or seven hundred wounded patients so they would not feel the pain of being burned alive."

Come all ye liars, great and small, red, black or white, tall or short, bald, round or squint-eyed, male or female, and hail Earl Austin of Clare, Michigan, as your king. If Satan is the father of liars, Earl Austin is his favorite son and the heir apparent to the throne of the kingdom of liars. As a liar he is grand, gloomy and peculiar—serene, unsurpassable, unapproachable. We salute Michigan as turning out the biggest liar that mankind has yet produced.

What is the matter with the Oakland police department? Yesterday afternoon two persons diligently hunted up and down Broadway, and Washington streets, between Seventh and Twelfth, for three-quarters of an hour without finding a bluecoat. A telephone call to police headquarters was equally fruitless. Is it the custom of the patrolmen to take a siesta every afternoon? Or was the Broadway squad off on a vacation?

The Editor of the Fresno Republican consumes a column and a half of his editorial space refuting an argument in the Bakersfield Californian which he says is not even plausible. Query, how much space would be required for him to refute a plausible argument?

Delaware has elected the head of the powder trust to the Senate, permanently turning down Addicks, the head of the gas trust. There ought to be a display of fireworks in Washington pretty soon.

The Los Angeles Times is an ardent believer in the old legal maxim, When you have a bad case abuse the plaintiff's attorney, for that is precisely what it is doing with reference to its row with Governor Pardee. Instead of answering the plain temperate statement of the facts of the case with respect to the consolidation amendment proposed by the Los Angeles committee, printed in the Evening Express, the Times truculently shouts "Putrid Journalism." This sort of bluster will carry no weight with intelligent, fair-minded people. If it is the best the Times has to offer the whole matter may be dismissed as unworthy of discussion. Vulgar and pointless cartoons and equally vulgar and pointless epithets merely serve to show how little there is in the alleged grievance the Times urges against the Governor. Our Los Angeles contemporary is doing far more harm to itself than it is doing to Governor Pardee.

Anybody can understand now why the meat sold by the Chicago packers is so "high."

Gorman's Successor in the Senate.

It is one of the curious turns of politics that William Pinckney Whyte, Maryland's "grand old man," should be appointed Senator to succeed Arthur Pue Gorman. It was William Pinckney Whyte that Gorman displaced when he was first elected to the Senate. Mr. Whyte had been State Senator, Governor and twice United States Senator, and is counted among the ablest and most high-minded statesmen Maryland has ever produced. He is a lawyer of great ability, courtly manners and intense devotion to the best traditions of the bar. It would be impossible for Senator Whyte to woo political preferment by the arts which Gorman so successfully employed. It would be equally impossible for him to pursue in public life the methods which made Gorman formidable and influential. This clean, fine old-school statesman, with his silver hair and gracious courtesy, will give Maryland dignity and honor in the Senate. It is worthy of note that Senator Whyte opposed the scheme to disfranchise the negroes which Gorman made the issue in the last Maryland campaign, and on which he staked his political future. That measure was voted down, and now William Pinckney Whyte returns to the place in the Senate which Gorman wrested from him a quarter of a century ago.

It is charged by the Chicago meat packers that President Roosevelt is using the muck rake. Whether the implement is a rake or a pitchfork, the President has evidently struck muck in the packing-house inquiry, and plenty of it.

The "earthquake clause" is likely to cause a general shake-up in the insurance business before the San Francisco policy-holders are through with it.

A KICK IN THE FACE.

A landscape artist has drawn plans for a more beautiful Oakland. What Oakland needs is not plans for a more beautiful city but a more energetic and enterprising citizenry. THE LEADING REPUBLICAN NEWSPAPER.

THE OAKLAND TRIBUNE now prints a Sunday edition. It is a good thing. It has heretofore been a source of regret that the newsy, entertaining and enterprising TRIBUNE came only six days in the week. THE SONG OF THE THRUSH.

Ah, the May was grand this mornin'!
Shure, how could I feel forlorn in tossed their kisses to the breeze? Such a land, when tree and flower
Could an Irish heart be quiet
While the Spring was running riot,
An' the birds of free America were singing in the trees?
In the songs that they were singing
No familiar note was ringing,
But I strove to imitate them an' I whistled like a lad.
Oh, my heart was warm to love them
For the very newness of them—
For the ould songs that they helped me to forget—an' I was glad.

So I mocked the feathered choir
To my hungry heart's desire,
An' I glowed in the comradeship that made their joy my own,
Till a new note sounded stilling
All the rest. A thrush was trilling!
Ah! the thrush I left behind me in the fields about Athlone!
Where, upon the whitehorn swaying,
He was minstrel of the Maying
In my days of love and laughter that the years have laid to rest;
Here, again his notes were ringing!
But I'd lost the heart for singing—
Ah, the song I could not answer was the one I know the best.

A KENTUCKY WOMAN

TELLS HOW DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS RESTORED HER HEALTH.

How She Gained Fifteen Pounds in Weight and Became Well for the First Time in Two Years.

There comes a time in the life of every woman when the bloom of youth begins to fade from the cheek, the elastic step, the ringing laugh, the brightness of the eyes give way to the more sober tones of middle age, and headaches, dizziness, faintness and spells of the "blues" show a tendency to appear. Women at forty, or thereabouts, have their future in their own hands. There will be a change for the better or worse, for the better if the system is purified by such a tonic as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Mrs. D. C. Wedding, of Hartford, Ky., writes as follows concerning the difficulties which afflicted her:

"I was seriously ill and was confined to my bed for six or eight months in all, during two years. I had chills, fever, rheumatism. My stomach seemed always too full, my kidneys did not act freely, my liver was inactive, my heart beat was very weak and I had dizziness or swimming in my head, and nervous troubles. I was under the treatment of several different physicians but they all failed to do me any good. After suffering for two years I learned from an Arkansas friend about the merits of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I decided that I would try them. The very first box I took made me feel better and when I had taken four boxes more I was entirely well, weighed fifteen pounds more than when I began, resumed my household duties, and have since continued in the best of health. I have recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to many people on account of what they did for me, and I feel that I cannot praise them too strongly."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills restored Mrs. Wedding to health because they actually make new blood and when the blood is in full force every function of the body is restored, because the blood carries to every organ, every muscle, every nerve, the nourishment necessary to enable it to do its part. Because Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make the blood rich and red they restore lost weight, strengthen and revitalize the nerves, bring color to the cheeks, banish rheumatic pains and bring good health and spirit to the depressed. Any woman who is interested in the cure of Mrs. Wedding will want our book, "Plain Talks to Women," which is free on request.

All druggists sell Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

ROYAL PARTY SEES CHICAGO STOCKYARDS

CHICAGO, June 15.—H. H. Sapajiro Cackwar, maharajah of Baroda, India, his royal secretary, Prince Britti and his corps of attendants, visited the stockyards yesterday upon invitation of the packers.

The maharajah, through his secretary as interpreter, said they were impressed by the wonderful methods of killing and preparing meats in the big packing houses.

The party left last night for Colorado Springs. From there it will go to the Yellowstone park. The maharajah intends to send a number of Indian students to American universities in the fall.

Recording Your Glasses

If you should break or lose your glasses you would be at a serious disadvantage.

Your eyes might suffer, and your work be delayed while your eyes were tested and new glasses made to suit.

If we had the number and details entered in our prescription books we could promptly grind new lenses in our factory here while you waited for them.

You would be saved much time and trouble.

Is it not a good idea to let us see your glasses so that we can take the number and details and record them free of charge?

SOCIETY

The ladies of the associated kindergartens are planning to give the garden fête that was to have been given May 5 at Idora park on the afternoon and evening of September 20.

The plans which were so badly frustrated by the great catastrophe which befell San Francisco and her sister cities, have been resumed, and all the ladies of the individual kindergartens are working with renewed efforts and enthusiasm towards the realization of a most successful fête.

The executive committee, under whose direct management the fête is given, is headed by Mrs. E. B. Beck, so long identified with kindergarten work in this city. She is ably assisted by the following well known ladies: Mrs. Thomas Crellin, Mrs. T. C. Coogan, Mrs. A. H. Eastman, Mrs. E. C. Farnham, Mrs. W. G. Palmanteer, Mrs. E. Hayden, Mrs. Gilbert L. Belcher, Mrs. Murray L. Johnson, Mrs. John H. Brewer, Mrs. Thomas J. McMaures, Mrs. James P. Vane and Miss Adaline Bland.

The concessions that have been chosen by the different kindergartens are as follows: The Central Free Kindergarten—Homemade candy, paper dolls and other paper novelties. West Oakland Free Kindergarten—Donkeys, pony carts, whips and balloons. East Oakland Free Kindergarten—Hot waffles and a fish pond for children. Good Will Kindergarten—Tea, coffee, lemonade and fortune-telling.

The tickets that were sold for the May fête will be honored if presented September 20.

INFORMAL AFFAIR.

Mrs. Seth Mann was hostess recently at an informal card party followed by a jolly supper, the guests including a dozen intimate friends. After an interesting game the prize was carried off by Mrs. Fred Dallam.

VISIT IN THE SOUTH.

Miss Helen Powell has gone to Pasadena as the guest of Miss Lillian Remillard, who has been visiting here.

FAREWELL DINNER.

Mrs. Edward S. Hough gave a farewell dinner at her home, 1401 Eighth avenue, East Oakland, on last Tuesday evening. The affair was planned in compliment to friends from the east, who have been visiting at the Hough home.

WEDDING PLANS.

The marriage of Miss Frances Bolles of East Oakland and Harry B. Gawnthorne of Gilroy takes place June 25 at the home of Mrs. C. F. Whitton on Hawthorne street.

The ceremony will be performed by Rev. H. H. Wilson, and the bride will be attended by Miss Margaret Wilson as maid of honor, and two bridesmaids, Miss Alice Whitton and Miss Marion Brown.

The groom will be attended by his brother, F. A. Gawnthorne.

An informal reception will follow the pretty ceremony, when Mr. Gawnthorne and bride will leave on a honeymoon trip. Their future home is to be in Gilroy, where the groom is in newspaper work.

AUTOMOBILE TRIP.

Mrs. William Kleeman and Miss Estelle Kleeman have returned after a delightful automobile trip to San Jose, where they were guests of the Campbells.

WEDDING DATE.

Instead of being celebrated in September, as was first planned, the marriage of Miss Carrie Bosworth and Royal T. Lockett will take place June 25.

The young couple will make their future home in the southern part of Nevada.

A HOUSEWARMING.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Clay Black are now established in their new home in Linda Vista and Wednesday evening had a dozen friends assembled for a quite informal house-warming. The attractive home will probably be the scene of many happy gatherings.

BUILDING FOOD.

To Bring the Babies Around.

When a little human machine (or a large one) goes wrong, nothing is so important as a selection of food to bring it around again.

"My little baby boy fifteen months old had pneumonia, then came brain fever, and no sooner had he got over these than he began to cut teeth and, being so weak, he was frequently thrown into convulsions," says a Colorado mother.

"I decided a change might help, so took him to Kansas City for a visit. When we got there he was so very weak when he would cry he would sink away and seemed like he would die."

"When I reached my sister's home she said immediately that we must feed him Grape-Nuts and, although I had never used the food, we got some and for a few days gave him just the juice of Grape-Nuts and milk. He got stronger so quickly we were soon feeding him the Grape-Nuts itself and in a wonderfully short time he fattened right up and became strong and well."

"That showed me something worth knowing and when later on my girl came I raised her on Grape-Nuts and she is a strong, healthy baby and has been. You will see from the little photograph I send you what a strong, chubby youngster the boy is now, but he didn't look anything like that before we found this nourishing food. Grape-Nuts nourished him back to strength when he was so weak he couldn't keep any other food on his stomach." Name given by Postum Company, Battle Creek, Mich.

All children can be built to a more sturdy and healthy condition upon Grape-Nuts and cream. The food contains the elements nature demands, from which to make the most gray filling in the nerve centers and brain. A well fed brain and strong, sturdy nerves absolutely insure a healthy body.

Look in packages for the famous little book, "The Road to Wellville."

MISS GERTRUDE GOULD WHO WILL TAKE PART IN THE OUT-DOOR VAUDEVILLE THIS EVENING AT THE MACDERMOTT HOME.

scene of many delightful affairs in future.

CARD CLUB.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Gaskill entertained this week at the meeting of a congenial card club called the Friday Night club. Five hundred was the game and the club enjoyed the final session this week until vacations are over.

The players were Mr. and Mrs. Churchill Taylor, Dr. and Mrs. Taylor, Dr. and Mrs. Harry Carlton, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dallam, Mr. and Mrs. George Bornemann, Mr. and Mrs. Seth Mann, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Miles and Mr. and Mrs. Gaskill.

IN THE SOUTH.

Mrs. W. A. Smythe of East Oakland, who is touring the southern portion of the state, is at present visiting her son, C. L. Smythe, who resides in Los Angeles. She has visited Mount Lowe, Riverside and Catalina Island, and before her return will spend a week or two in Pasadena and Santa Barbara.

TELEPHONE TEA.

Miss Eleanor Eschen entertained Wednesday afternoon at an informal telephone tea, at her home 1303 Caroline street, Alameda, in honor of Mrs. Frank Babbitt-Drake, one of the recent brides. Her pretty home was most artistically decorated and some fifty guests called during the afternoon.

Those assisting the charming hostess and her fair guest of honor were the following: Mrs. Sumner Loo, Miss Mabel Ward, Miss Grace Langley and Miss Edith Sayre.

JUNE WEDDING.

The marriage of Miss Nona Middleton and Owen H. Robertson takes place on the evening of June 27 at the home of the bride, 2215 Broadway.

No cards have been issued, and the wedding will be a simple affair.

Miss Hattie Taylor will attend the bride, while Charles Friebe of Mare Island will act as best man.

After a short honeymoon the couple will live in this city, where a pretty home is being built for them.

PLEASANT AFFAIR.

Mrs. Frank Barnett was hostess this afternoon at a delightful card party given at her home, the guests including the members of a card club. The membership includes: Mrs. Fred Dorcas, Mrs. Frank Titus, Mrs. Rupert Whitehead, Mrs. Jackson, Mrs. F. R. Chadwick, Mrs. A. A. Denison, Mrs. W. H. L. Hynes, Mrs. W. W. Weighty Professional Endorsements.

That the several American medicinal books, the concentrated glyceric extracts of which make up Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, have the strongest kind of endorsement by scores of leading medical writers of all the several schools of practice, a brief glance at the standard works on Materia Medica will show. Of Golden Seal root, which is one of the most potent ingredients of "Golden Medical Discovery," Dr. Roberts Bartholow, of Jefferson Medical College, says: "Very useful as a stomachic (stomach) tonic and in atonic dyspepsia. Cures gastric (stomach) catarrh and headache accompanying same." He also mentions catarrh of the gall duct, jaundice and constipation as diseases which the use of Golden Seal root overcomes; also catarrh of the intestines, even when it has proceeded to ulceration, is remarkably benefited by Hydrastis (Golden Seal root).

Dr. Grover Coo, of New York, says: "Hydrastis (Golden Seal root) exercises an especial influence over mucous surfaces. Upon the liver it acts with equal certainty and efficacy. As a cholagogue (liver invigorator) it has few equals." Dr. Coo also advises it for affections of the spleen and other abdominal viscera generally, and for scrofulous and glandular diseases, cutaneous eruptions, indigestion, chronic diarrhoea, constipation, also in several affections peculiar to women, and in all chronic derangements of the liver; also for chronic inflammation of bladder, for which Dr. Coo says "it is one of the most reliable agents of cure."

Prof. Hobart A. Hare, M. D., of the University of Pa., says of Golden Seal root that it is "of service in chronic catarrh of the stomach and bowels, following abuse of alcohol, and as a tonic after malarial fever." He further says, "It has a distinct anti-malarial influence." Also "good in all catarrhal conditions, as uterine catarrh, leucorrhoea, etc., and as a curative agent in chronic dyspepsia."

Prof. Laurence Johnson, M. D., of the Medical Department of University of N. Y., is equally loud in his praise of Golden Seal root, especially for its tonic effects in convalescence from acute diseases and its special tonic influence upon mucous surfaces and upon the gall bladder.

Doctors Barton and Tully recommended Golden Seal root as a pure tonic and as an alternative in diseased conditions of the mucous membranes.

Prof. John King, M. D., late of Cincinnati, author of the AMERICAN DISPENSARY, gives it a prominent place among medicinal agents, reiterates all the foregoing writers have said about it, as does also Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., late of Cincinnati. Dr. Scudder says: "It stimulates the digestive processes and increases the assimilation of food. By these means the blood is enriched, and the consequent improvement on the glandular and nervous systems are natural results." Dr. Scudder further says, "in relation to its general effect upon the system, there is no medicine in use about which there is such general unanimity of opinion. It is universally regarded as the tonic useful in all debilitated conditions."

Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago, says of Golden Seal root: "It is a most superior remedy in catarrhal gastritis (inflammation of the stomach), chronic constipation, general debility, in convalescence from protracted fevers, in prostrating night sweats. It is an important remedy in disorders of the stomach." (This agent, Golden Seal root, is an important ingredient of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription for women's weaknesses, as well as of the "Golden Medical Discovery.") Dr. Ellingwood continues, "in all catarrhal conditions it is useful."

Much more, did space permit, could be quoted from prominent authorities as to the wonderful curative properties possessed by Golden Seal root. We want to assure the reader that "Golden Medical Discovery" can be relied upon to do all that is claimed for the Golden Seal root in the cure of all the various diseases as set forth in its above brief extracts, for its most prominent and important ingredient is Golden Seal root. This agent is, however, strongly reinforced, and its curative action greatly enhanced by the addition, in just the right proportion of Queen's root, Stone root, Black Cherry bark, Bloodroot, Mandrake root, and chemically pure glycerine. All of these are happily and harmoniously blended into a most perfect pharmaceutical compound, now favorably known throughout most of the civilized countries of the world. Bear in mind that each and every ingredient entering in the "Discovery" has received the endorsement of the leading medical men of our land, who extol each article named above in the highest terms. What other medicine put up for sale through druggists can show any such professional endorsement? For dyspepsia, liver troubles, all chronic catarrhal affections of whatever name or nature, lingering coughs, bronchitis, throat and lung affections, the "Discovery" can be relied upon as a sovereign remedy.

By reading the little book noted below any one will readily see the applicability of the "Golden Medical Discovery" to the cure of all the foregoing list of diseases as well as many other chronic affections, especially those of the heart, kidneys, bladder, skin and blood.

A little book of extracts treating of all the severe ingredients entering into Dr. Pierce's medicines, being extracts from standard medical works, of the different schools of practice, will be mailed free to any one asking (by postal card or letter), for the same, addressed to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and giving the writer's full post-office address plainly written.

In cases of chronic ailments, attended by marked, or persistent, constipation, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be taken conjointly with the use of the "Golden Medical Discovery," to regulate the bowels. They act in harmony with the "Discovery," and will be found to be a most valuable laxative, or, in fuller doses a cleansing cathartic.

Podophyllin, the active medicinal principle of Mandrake root, enters largely into the composition of the little sugar-coated "Pellets," in fact, it is one of their chief ingredients. The

SOUTHERN PACIFIC RATE CUT

Great Saving to Passengers Made by Railroad Company.

Sweeping reductions in passenger rates on all its lines in the west are announced by the Southern Pacific. In some cases the reductions will amount to as much as 25 per cent. The announcement was made by Passenger Traffic Manager T. C.

It is believed that the reduction will mean an annual saving to passengers patronizing the Southern Pacific of from $500,000 to $1,000,000, although no official figures have been given out. The reductions, which have been under consideration for some time, followed upon a traffic conference at Chicago of the passenger department officials of the Southern Pacific with Traffic Director Stubbs and Assistant Traffic Director McCormick. They will become effective July 1. The purpose of this reduction, which affects a larger area and more miles of railway line than any change in rates ever before made by a railroad company, is development.

From Auburn, California, to Ogden, Utah, along the main line of the Southern Pacific, the rates will be reduced from five cents to four cents per mile, in the mountainous and desert region as well as in the productive territories. In the mountainous region about Mount Shasta, from Redding to Oregon, rates will be reduced from four cents to three cents per mile.

Perhaps the most marked reduction is in Arizona and New Mexico where, because of the light population, the rates, which have been five cents and six cents per mile along the main line, are now to be reduced to four cents per mile. Across the Colorado desert, from Banning to Yuma, the rates have been five cents per mile, but under the new tariff will be four cents.

Hundreds of rates from San Francisco will be reduced. The fare between San Francisco and Los Angeles where there is often a travel of 200 passengers per day, will be reduced from $15 to $14, and between San Jose and Los Angeles from $15 to $12.75. Fare between San Francisco and Santa Barbara will be reduced from $11.65 to $10.90. The fare between Sacramento and Los Angeles will be $13.15.

Reduction between San Jose and Santa Barbara will be from $11.65 to $9.65. In the territory between Poso Robles and Santa Barbara, along the coast line, including such towns as San Luis Obispo and Lompoc, rates will be reduced some forty per cent. The maximum hereafter is to be three cents per mile. The fare between Fresno and Los Angeles will be reduced from $9.70 to $8.30 from Lathrop to Los Angeles the fare will be reduced to $11.70.

The fares from San Francisco to many points east of Auburn, north of Redding, south of Santa Margarita and south of Bakersfield, extending over into Arizona, will be lowered. No main-line rate of the Southern Pacific will hereafter be above four cents per mile, and in all territories having any considerable population the maximum rate will be three cents per mile. The fare between Fresno and Los Angeles will be reduced from $9.70 to $8.30 from Lathrop to Los Angeles the fare will be reduced to $11.70.

SCADDING IS HESITATING

May Not Accept Bishopric of Oregon to Which He Was Elected.

CHICAGO, June 15.—The Rev. Dr. Chas. Scadding, of La Grange, Ill., who was elected bishop of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of Oregon last night, was seen at his residence in La Grange early today. He said:

"I cannot say positively whether I will accept the position I have become greatly attached to Chicago and to my church in La Grange. In fact, I feel myself a part of this community, and I cannot go farther West and away from these associations without much deliberation. However, the election is a great honor from my point of view."

The Rev. Mr. Scadding was born in Toronto in 1852 and was graduated from Trinity college in that city. His first charge was St. George's, New York. Next he was rector of Trinity, Toledo, when he came to La Grange, Emmanuel church, La Grange, of which he is rector, has grown rapidly during the last ten years

WOMEN SHRIEK AS AUTO FALLS

Dr. Stitt's Wife, Daughter and Friend Victims of Wreck of Big Touring Car.

BERKELEY, June 15.—Dr. J. W. Stitt, his wife and little daughter and Mrs. Antone Stitt, had an exciting time in a runaway automobile yesterday morning. The big touring car with the doctor's chauffeur at the wheel was traveling along a fair rate of speed when suddenly the doctor lost control of the machine. The big car began to coast down the hill and across the fields of North Berkeley. At a turn the speed and it was only after the chauffeur had been thrown out of the car that it was finally stopped. The women shrieked in terror at the sight of their lives.

The accident occurred in the vacant fields around Spring street in North Berkeley. The chauffeur was asked to turn his machine as the ladies of the party had been up the road before and thought that there was no way of getting out of it. The car was running along the side of a hill and when the machine was half way around it suddenly started forward and turned off the grade and down the steep embankment. The chauffeur managed to hold it a moment before it took the plunge and Mrs. Stitt and her twelve year old daughter Sybil jumped to the ground. Mrs. Stitt's car was in the front seat with the driver of the car stuck to her place and when the machine had been brought to a stop after bumping across the fields she alighted unharmed. The ladies refused to enter the machine again and after walking to North Berkeley took the car to the residence of Dr. Stitt at 2116 University avenue. The chauffeur took down a few sections of the fence and finally managed to get his machine into the road again.

BERKELEY, June 15.—Today a large party of university students will leave for Arizona where for a month and a half they will callously lime their hands with pick and shovel. The most prominent of the party of students among those leaving for the south are Lawrence Kennedy, Vance MacClaymond, son of the school superintendent of Oakland, Jackson Gregory, son of the head of the basketball team, and Fred Tatum of the varsity baseball squad. Sam Hellman, who was editor of the Californian, is already in Arizona. Walter de Leon, the well known leader of the party, will join the party later.

NO MORE RELIEF IN ALAMEDA CITY

ALAMEDA, June 15.—The order has been sent to this city by Major Lewis who has charge of all military forces in Alameda county that no more relief should be afforded to anyone in this city. The Ellis bureau was so notified and plans are being made to finish up the work. George W. Thompson, who is in charge of the work, has issued a notice to all those who have been receiving help that they must go to San Francisco, if they desire to receive further assistance.

ALAMEDA MAN PAINFULLY INJURED

ALAMEDA, June 15.—A horse belonging to Francis Martin of 2140 San Jose avenue, and driven by that gentleman, ran away last night and the occupant was thrown out of the dashboard of the buggy and dragged for fifty feet sustaining painful bruises. Martin started to drive the horse from his yard into the street. A little child ran in front of the horse and frightened it. The horse dashed down San Jose avenue but at Walnut street fell and Mr. Martin was pitched forward over the dashboard.

"Here Comes the Grocer's Man."

This is a frequent expression around the home.

It means a great deal. If he comes just when he promises to, it is all right. If he disappoints you, it is all wrong.

Many a dinner has been spoiled by lack of promptness on the part of the grocer's man.

If your grocer be prompt and reliable, stay with him. If he is not giving you perfect satisfaction, we would like you to try us.

Berkeley U. S. W. V. Cordially

Asked to Visit Southern City.

BERKELEY, June 15.—The Roosevelt camp of Los Angeles U. S. W. V. has sent a letter to the Joseph H. McCormick camp of Berkeley cordially inviting the members of the camp their wives and sweethearts to take a jog down Los Angeles street to the department convention of the Spanish war veterans to be held in the southern city on July 23 and 24. The three days' visit is given over to pleasure. A military band, trolley rides, picnics, theater parties and other favors will make the encampment the best ever given.

TO ARREST CHILDREN: NEARLY MOBBED

BERKELEY, June 15.—A man giving the name of Short appeared at the police station last night and told the police that two little girls had come off with his baby buggy, and he asked that they be arrested. Policemen Woolley accompanied the man down stairs where he found the two little girls crying and begging not to be arrested. A number of men gathered around them and were trying to console them about the matter. When they caught sight of Short they made a grab for him, and things would have been far different had not Short been for the presence of the officer. He was finally told to go in no kind words. It seems that the two children had found the baby buggy, but Short insisted that they accompany him to the station and be arrested. Short gave his residence as 2121 Carlton street.

SPOUSE GREETED BY A SHOWER OF CROCKERY

BERKELEY, June 15.—A cup was hurled at Mrs. Fink when she arrived at her home at 1918 Francisco street last night. It was followed by a chair and then more crockery. "I have stood this as long as I can," exclaimed the wounded and battered wife. "I shall swear out a warrant for your arrest, and then I shall live with you again." Neighbors, alarmed by the noise in the Fink home, hastened to the police station and contacted Officer Charles Crocker to the house where he found the couple arguing out the matter. Fink was taken to the lockup and a charge of battery was placed against him.

YOUNG BRYAN WILL ENTER U. S. NAVY

LINCOLN, Neb., June 15.—William J. Bryan Jr. returned to his home yesterday after traveling over a greater part of the world with his parents and sister. He said the rest of the trip would have been a duplication of the journey taken by himself and his father some time ago and that he preferred to return to his country, visit his married sister in Denver for a while and then prepare for entrance to a military academy in Indiana. Young Bryan expects to enter the United States navy after completing his academic course.

TEN-CENT PIECE LODGES IN THIS BOY'S THROAT

Doctor Has to Cut Open Windpipe of Lad to Save Him From Choking to Death.

BERKELEY, June 15.—A ten cent piece lodged in the throat nearly cost little Clarence Westworth his life yesterday. The youngster swallowed the coin and was strangling to death when Dr. Rowell was called and a hasty operation saved the life of the little fellow. The physician had to perform the delicate operation called tracheotomy.

FRUITVALE LAD NEARLY KILLED BY HORSE

BERKELEY, June 15.—While adjusting the harness on the horses which he was driving along Center street yesterday afternoon, Andrew Gant, the fourteen year old lad employed by the Drucker Express Company of Fruitvale, narrowly escaped being trampled to death under the feet of the horses.

The lad was in the wagon with driver when a part of the harness on one of the horses became loosened, and the boy jumped out of the wagon to adjust it. As he reached the horse the animal reared and the single tree of the wagon struck the lad at the base of the brain on the left side of his head making a severe bruise. The boy refused to see a physician and insisted upon resuming his trip.

MERCURY A DECEPTIVE TREATMENT

Mercury and potash are very deceptive treatments and the blood poison sufferer who depends on them for a cure is sure to be disappointed. These minerals will remove the external symptoms and shut the disease up in the system for a while, but the trouble will surely return and the loathsome symptoms of sore mouth and throat, copper-colored spots, falling hair, sores and ulcers etc., will be accompanied by the disastrous effects of the treatment. The continued use of these strong minerals will completely ruin the health and weaken the system to such an extent that the original disease often becomes incurable and sometimes fatal. Mercury and potash eat out the delicate lining of the stomach and bowels, destroy the gastric juices, producing chronic dyspepsia, cause mercurial rheumatism, salivation, and where they are taken in large quantities cause necrosis or decay of the bones. S. S. S. is the only remedy that can cure Contagious Blood Poison safely and surely. This remedy of nature, made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, antidotes and destroys the powerful virus of the disease and by purifying the blood of every particle of the poison and enriching and strengthening this vital fluid it removes every symptom and leaves the body in a strong, healthy condition. When the blood has been purified with S. S. S. the cure is complete, and not one vestige of the poison is left for future outbreaks. Do not waste valuable time, and damage your health with the mineral treatment, but cure your case with S. S. S., an absolutely safe remedy. We offer a reward of $1,000 for proof that S. S. S. contains a particle of mineral. Book with instructions for self treatment and medical advice without charge. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

IS GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER

Jury Reaches Verdict in Meyers' Murder Case Only After Some Hours of Debate.

SAN FRANCISCO June 15.—The jury in the case of Bernard Meyers, charged with the murder of Eugene Pegullian brought in a verdict of manslaughter shortly before 9 o'clock last night. The jury was sent out at 5 o'clock, and on the first ballot scored nine for acquittal to three for conviction. The jurymen were sent out to dinner at 6 o'clock and returned shortly after 8 o'clock when succeeding ballots showed a decided change in the attitude of the jurors. The final ballot was taken at 8:30.

The verdict in the Meyers case will be the first verdict in a murder trial since the fire. But two days were consumed in examining twenty-five witnesses hearing three arguments and charging the jury.

A feature of the case was the calling of most of the prosecution's witnesses by the defense. Colonel T. V. Eddy argued for the defense that the attack between Bernard Meyers and Eugene Pegullian in which the latter lost his life was really in the nature of a duel and that the defendant was liable to no more than seven years in prison if found guilty.

The crime for which Meyers was tried took place on February 24, 1906, in South San Francisco three shots being fired by the defendant who claimed that in as much as Pegullian flourished a razor he acted in self-defense.

CANADIANS GIVE RELIEF

Respond Instantly to Requests Made for Help for the Refugees.

W. D. Moore of this city tells of an act of kindness by the Canadian people that shows how far reaching was the sympathy felt for the San Francisco refugees. Mr. Moore says: "At the time of the fire many of my relatives who lived in San Francisco escaped and came to Oakland with nothing but the apparel on their backs. At the time I wrote to my father, Mr. W. Moore in Canada, telling him of the utter destitution of the refugees and how acceptable any donation of clothes and other necessities would be. My father took up the matter and put an item in the St. Thomas Times and the following week evidence was given of the good hearts and generous nature of Canadian citizens. Clothes of all descriptions for all ages and sexes came pouring in and I received in all some four or five boxes. After fitting out all whom I knew to be in need I turned the balance of clothing over to the relief committee and many men women and children were entirely equipped and will remember the Canadians with gratitude."

HOW TO BEAT POOR INSURANCE

One Way to Reach Companies Who Do Not Pay.

Oakland June 15.—1906. Editor TRIBUNE: I have found a way of not only withdrawing new business from those insurance companies who refuse to pay their just claims but also take away their business. I hope others will do what I have started to do. I have given notice to all those in this county, I hold mortgages and policies that they must furnish me with the names of the companies who are paying their claims. I will then make a survey of policies on risks in town.

LECTURE TO GRADUATES

Professor Stephens Addresses Pupils of the Horton School.

After listening to an invocation by Rev. Raymond C. Brooks, a spinning chorus and Professor Henry Morse Stephens' instruction to cultivate the reading habit, to read Sir Walter Scott's novels and to draw divers lessons from the San Francisco fire, five girls and two boys arrived at one of the most momentous events in their lives last evening when they were presented with their diplomas from the Horton preparatory school.

The address of the evening was delivered by Professor Henry Morse Stephens. It was entitled "The Educational Value of Historical Fiction Illustrated by the Novels of Sir Walter Scott."

In opening his address Professor Stephens said that Sir Walter Scott possessed "a gay courage." There are other kinds of courage he said, such as a soldier's or a policeman's and a moral courage but this is a new brand "a gay courage, scoffing at such mere trifles as earthquakes and fires."

GREAT HISTORICAL NOVELIST. Then he passed on to Sir Walter Scott was a really great historical novelist, the professor explained. True, Sir Scott was justly called a "soldier" upon his imagination and wrote along in a leisurely sort of a way not paying any particular attention as to whether he had any plot or not, but nevertheless he injected into his writings a realism and understanding that caused him to stand out as they do. In our later day historical novels he declared the author dressed his character up in old fashioned clothes threw in a few good old fashioned gadgets and a strictly modern plot, and so you had a historical novelist and his characters sympathetic. He attempted no psychological characters. He took one side of a case and worked that as none but a genius could do.

ADVOCATES READING HABIT. In closing Professor Stephens advocated the reading habit stating that it could only be acquired in youth and that anyone who failed to cultivate was preparing for himself a dreary old age. Then he reverted to Sir Walter and gave a little of the history of his life and compared his courage to that which he spoke of in his opening sentence. After all we have gone through since the 15th of last April Professor Stephens continued it is hard to speak on an academic subject. On that note we came in contact with a greater interest in human nature. In concluding he admonished the students to be non-partisan, to read good literature and to draw from the recent calamity the assurance of the innate kindness of human nature.

His address was preceded by an invocation by the Rev. Raymond Brooks a spinning chorus by the Flying Dutchman by Wagner the solo part being sung by Esther Allen Cobb and the chorus by the girls glee club. Miss Lita Schlessinger followed the address with a song about April rain and was rewarded with an encore. The distribution of the diplomas was preceded by a tableau by eight young ladies and in closing the girls glee club rendered several selections which were followed by a hymn and benediction. The graduates were Katherine Baines, Frank Stanley, Edith E. Brown, Corbin, Burrell, E. McK. Chapman, Elizabeth Ray, Elliot, Mildred Prupp and Veta Grace Vincent.

EXPLAINS BREAK WITH ROUMANIA

ATHENS June 15.—Foreign Minister Skouzes explained in the chamber of deputies yesterday the failure of Greece's efforts to elicit a rupture with Roumania, which government had declined the Eussian proposal to negotiate the controversy at St. Petersburg or submit the matter to the Hague tribunal for arbitration and had presented proposals that were absolutely unacceptable. Then came the demonstration against the Greek legation at Bucharest and the insult to the consul general and a Greek priest, for which Roumania not only refused satisfaction but passed severe financial measures against Greece.

BUSINESS IS DULL ON WATERFRONT

The steam schooner Whitesboro tied up at the city wharf yesterday for the purpose of procuring a crew of non union sailors.

Whether this can be done at this port is doubtful however the captain claims that he can get the men at some of the river ports.

The Whitesboro is to carry a cargo of general merchandise from coast points and intends to bring down a cargo of lumber during the day one lone schooner laden with lumber put in at Adams' wharf.

With the exception of the screw schooners and river boats, which are plying as usual, and the discharging of the cargoes of the vessels now at anchor along the front, business is practically nil.

DRIVEN OUT BY MANAGER

Southern Pacific Surveyors Invited, at Point of Gun, to Leave a Ranch.

PLEASANTON June 15.—On Wednesday a gang of men from the Southern Pacific were surveying in different parts of Pleasanton. They came to the land of rancho del Valle and started in their work when George Davis, the manager told them to get out. They did not go and Mr. Davis got a gun and at the point of it told them to move at once. When the gun appeared on the scene they lost no time in argument. They picked up their tools and fled over the fields and fences never looking back. Mr. Davis has been manager of rancho del Valle for almost twenty years.

The wedding of Miss Florence Moore and J. A. Beaudet took place on Thursday at 1 o'clock, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Weed on Second street. The house was beautifully decorated, the front parlor where the ceremony was performed, being hung in white and green. Miss Moore who is a handsome young woman looked her best in her beautiful wedding gown of white silk and lace. She carried a shower bouquet of white sweet peas. The contracting parties were united by the Rev. Dr. Newhall of Oakland. After their wedding journey Mr. and Mrs. Beaudet will be at home at their residence on Second street.

The very valuable two-year-old colt, Stum B, called C. F. Capp belonging to S. Christensen was killed on Wednesday at the Santa Rita stock farm by jumping a picket fence. Several of the pickets bore large holes in his side, causing instant death. Mr. Christensen's loss is a heavy one as he had refused $5000 for the colt.

Mrs. Hattie Cullen entertained a few lady friends at her home, Ruby Hill on Thursday afternoon. The afternoon was spent with music and conversation. The hostess served dainty refreshments at the close of the afternoon.

Miss Bessie Bunch is spending some time in the bay cities. Miss Winifred Case is visiting in San Francisco. Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Arendt have given up housekeeping for the present and are boarding at the Colonial. Miss Lottie Walton will spend her vacation in Fresno.

PLATE GLASS INSURANCE WAR ENDS

NEW YORK June 15.—The rate war in plate glass insurance in this city is at an end and the former manual of rates will be restored July 1. This is the result of a new compact which was formed yesterday at a meeting held at the office of the Metropolitan Casualty Company. All of the companies a ruling plate glass insurance were represented at the meeting. The rate war began with the collapse of the old compact in the latter part of 1902. The new organization will be known as the Plate Glass Underwriters Association and will have the same officers as were elected at the last annual meeting of the commission compact.

DRIVER

He Nearly Kills B. Hassell and Then Runs Away.

Knocked over by a heavy four-horse wagon, his horse's back and leg broken and himself knocked unconscious and left for hours in the darkness, was the experience of B. Hassell of Fruitvale who, while driving in a light wagon off the Oakland mole about 10 o'clock last night, was run down by a heavy four-horse butchers wagon and lay by the roadside until about 1 o'clock this morning, when he was found by Policeman McKeegan, who had him taken to the receiving hospital. Whoever the man was that ran him down, he states, must have driven right on without looking to see what had happened or caring for what damage he might have done.

Hassell states that the wagon struck him in the darkness and overturned his rig and that was the last he remembers. After he had been taken to the hospital it was found that his nose was fractured and that he had suffered a blow on the head which caused a slight concussion of the brain. While at the hospital a telephone message was received from the railway officials stating that the horse's leg and back were broken and requesting permission to shoot the animal and put it out of its misery. Hassell refused to permit this to be done until he could go there and see if anything could be done to save the animal. He, however, found that there was nothing to be done and had the animal shot.

The matter is to be called to the attention of the police to see if the man cannot be located. Hassell states that it was the grossest kind of negligence and that the man was driving at a high rate of speed at the time he was run into.

Louisville Woman Could Not Survive Tale of Fat Female Skater.

LOUISVILLE, June 15.—While listening to a story concerning a 300-pound woman who attended one of the local rinks, and was asked by the manager to quit trying to skate, as her frequent falls were a serious menace to the building, Mrs. Ann Jackson gave way to laughter, which became so hysterical as to cause her death a few minutes later.

Mrs. Jackson had not been well for some time, but her trouble was not considered of a serious nature.

CHARLES NEWMAN IS OPPOSED IN COUNCIL

Opposition for Liquor License Is Passed On—Attorney Faints During Meeting.

Factional feeling and business differences were forgotten last night at the meeting of the council committee, when Attorney Fred V. Wood, representing the opponents against the granting of the application of Charles Newman, former proprietor of the Richmond cafe and grill, of San Francisco, for a license to conduct a saloon, safe and grill, at 1011 Broadway, was suddenly taken ill, and fainted in the council chamber. Newman was the first to notice that something was wrong with Attorney Wood, and springing to the side of the fainting man, he caught him as he was swaying about to fall.

Newman aided by others quickly carried Wood to an open window, and the fresh air, combined with a liberal application of cold water, quickly revived the attorney.

Newman is represented in his fight for a license by Attorney G. W. Baker, and the latter appeared before the license committee last night to present to the committee a sworn revocation of the names of twenty-two names which had appeared on the protest against the granting of Newman's application. It was with great surprise that Attorney Baker was confronted with a new protest which had been filed yesterday, on which appeared some of the very same names which had been withdrawn from the original protest. This places some of the protesters in the position of having signed the first protest, and withdrawing their names from the same and of finally signing the new protest.

NEWMAN'S INTENTION.

On behalf of his client Attorney Baker assured the members of the license committee that it was the intention of Mr. Newman to conduct a first class saloon, cafe and grill, if granted a license and the latter also expressed his willingness to open his place of business and leave it to the council as to whether or not the license should be revoked.

L. H. Briggs who conducts a military store adjoining the location of the proposed saloon, whose name appeared on the original protest, appeared before the committee and declared bluntly that he had been induced to sign the protest by means of misrepresentation. Mr. Briggs stated that he had since learned that he had been misinformed as to the character of the proposed saloon and that he now wished to request that the application of Mr. Newman be granted.

On hearing the declaration of Mr. Briggs, Councilman Burns moved that the application of Mr. Newman be granted. In making this motion Councilman Burns said:

SOMETHING IRREGULAR.

"We wish to induce San Francisco business men to invest their money in this city, now let us give them a chance."

"It seems to me from the fact that the names of some of these protesters have been three times presented to this committee, first on a protest, later on a withdrawal from the protest, and lastly on another protest, that there is something very irregular in the procedure of these protesters, and I move that the protest be overruled, and the application of Mr. Newman be favorably acted upon by this committee."

The motion of Councilman Burns received no second, and later he made a motion that the matter be referred to the council without recommendation by the committee, and this proposal being seconded the application was so disposed of.

LIQUOR LICENSE.

The license committee recommended that the following applications for liquor licenses be favorably acted upon by the council: John G. Herr, 28 San Pablo avenue; M. Fontaine, 835 San Pablo avenue; Cozarno & Adams, 701 Filbert street; Bledsoe & Pozzi, 1437 Fourteenth street; E. J. Le Prette, 4900 Broadway; Germania Hall Association, 834-838 Webster street; Murphy & Donahue, 1701 Seventh street; John Ghiradelli, 1016 Seventh street; and D. J. Reardon, S. E. corner of San Pablo avenue and Twenty-ninth street.

The applications of Charles Cuevaqua at 1061 Seventh street, James de Fremery & Co., at 1201 Eighteenth street; Owens & Starr at 464 Twelfth street; R. M. Buare, at Metropole hotel were recommended. Smith & Grail, 562 Seventh street, were allowed to withdraw their applications for a license.

ASSESSMENT ROLLS.

The auditing and finance committee recommended the adoption of the resolution authorizing the city assessor to employ the necessary help to make up the assessment roll for the coming fiscal year, for the school district outside the city of Oakland the total cost of the extra help not to exceed $400. The resolution also authorizes the necessary blank books and stationery for the work of preparing the assessment roll.

The committee also recommended for passage the resolution authorizing the assessor to have prepared the necessary stationary and employ the necessary extra help to complete the assessment rolls and blank books for the collection of all outstanding personal property taxes and for the assessment of the Golden Gate and Adeline Sanitary Districts.

The compensation of each extra clerk employed by the assessor is not to exceed $100 per month.

The committee also recommended that the resolution appropriating $528 for the payment of call men in the fire department who will be placed on duty on July 3d, 4th and 5th and also appropriating $1694 for the payment of call men who were on duty from April 18th to April 29th. The recommendation was made in compliance with a request of the chief of the fire department, referred to the council by the board of police and fire commissioners.

The street committee recommended that the petition of Michael Murphy for permission to sever Herman street between Ayala and Fifty-eighth streets be favorably acted upon.

FIRE AND WATER.

The fire and water committee recommended that the suggestion of Chief N. A. Ball of the fire department, that new two way fire hydrants at Second and Webster, Second and Franklin, Second and Broadway, Second and Clay, Second and Grove, Fourth and Oak, Second and Alce, Second and Harrison, Second and Washington, Second and Castro, Second and Brush and Second and Market streets, in place of the old style hydrants now in use at these locations, and that all these hydrants be connected by six inch water ways with the new ten inch water main to be laid on Second street from Oak to Market street, be adopted by the council.

The committee also recommended that the report of Chief Ball, regarding the request of the Pacific Steel and Wire Company, that a fire hydrant be installed near their factory on the line of the Southern Pacific Company, between Twenty-first and Twenty-second avenues, be received and filed, and that a copy of the report of the chief be sent to the Pacific Steel and Wire Company. Chief Ball in his report stated that there are already five hydrants near the factory of the company, and no other hydrants are at present necessary.

OTHER MATTERS.

The street light committee last night recommended the adoption of an all night schedule in allotting the contract for lighting the city for the ensuing year. The proposed price of the Oakland Gas Light and Heat Company is $5 a light per month, with a rebate of fifteen cents a light for nights they do not burn.

Superintendent of Police and Fire Telegraph System Babcock was appointed for his best judgment as to letting the contract and he said he hereafter the contract and he said that there were so many foggy nights that he did not believe in letting the contract on

OIL TANK
EXPLODES;
6 BURNED

Flesh Drops From the Bodies of the Victims.

TOPEKA, Kas., June 15.—Six members of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad fire department were severely burned today by the explosion of a steel tank of oil in the freight yards.

Two of them, Gus Miller and Guy Luddington, are in the company's hospital and the physicians say they cannot recover.

A freight car filled with barrels of paint and a tank of oil caught fire and while fighting the fire the oil tank exploded, enveloping the men in flames.

Flesh dropped from the bodies of Luddington and Miller while they were being rushed to the hospital.

The park and boulevard committee recommended that the Piedmont Paving Company be granted an extension of forty days in which to repave the wall of the Harrison boulevard.

The petition of the San Francisco, Oakland and San Jose Railway for a franchise for a Key Route train from Fifty-fifth street and Telegraph avenue up to Claremont avenue to the proposed Claremont hotel property was laid over until July 26th.

An extension of sixty days was granted the Piedmont Paving Company to grade, curb and macadamize Twenty-first street.

Granting permission to Blake, Bilger & Co., to grade, curb and macadamize Vernon avenue recommended.

Granting permission to Blake & Bilger Company to grade, curb and macadamize Forty-ninth street, between Telegraph avenue and western line of Broadway. Recommended.

The report of Postmaster Julius Zabel for the month of May shows that he killed 245 dogs and has been called upon to carry away fifty more and twenty-five dead cats. For this he asks $491.25.

COUNCILMEN COMPLAIN OF TRACTION SERVICE

Many Questions Put to Superintendent Potter, Who Makes Promises of Improvement.

Superintendent Potter of the Oakland Traction Consolidated was before the street railway committee of the city council last night to explain the alleged irregular and poor service the company is giving the people in certain portions of the city and to give reasons why the franchise of the company should not be forfeited on the Fourteenth street line running to the Sixteenth street depot. While this matter was gone into by Councilman Fitzgerald, Councilman Aitken called the attention of Potter to the service the people in East Oakland are getting, and Councilman Thurston wanted to know the reason for the irregular and crowded condition of the cars both night and morning running on Telegraph avenue to Berkeley.

As a result of the discussion it developed that the Oakland Traction Consolidated did not have the necessary equipment; that the cars had been placed where the runs were the heaviest while other lines had been left without the necessary number of cars to do the work. This was especially so with the case of the Fourteenth street line to West Oakland. Councilman Fitzgerald maintained that there was but one car on this line and that it made such quick trips back and forth that it hardly stopped at all and was of little or no use.

PEOPLE WANT TO KNOW.

"The people want to know what to expect," said Fitzgerald. "And I would like to be able to tell them. So if you can explain to me just what the company's idea is in running a line in such a way I shall be obliged."

Potter—We have all the cars on the tracks that we have. We have a force of men at work putting out cars and in fact are now using the cars before they are complete and that is all that we can do.

Attorney Edward Engs stated that as he understood it Mr. Kelly's idea was to make the Fourteenth street line a cross town line.

Fitzgerald—Since the Hollis street line has been in operation this line had been neglected. For a time no cars were run over it and now only one is being operated and it looked as though the company was simply trying to keep its franchise alive.

Potter—Well, Mr. Fitzgerald, we have all the work we can handle and more and you don't suppose that if we had cars we would not put them on, do you? We are doing the best we can.

IN EAST OAKLAND.

Councilman Aitken—Well, can you explain to me why we get such very poor service in East Oakland. It is not a matter of cars there so much as the way they are run. You will wait a long time for a car and then half a dozen will come along in a bunch. They run by you without stopping and the people generally are up in arms.

Potter—The reason why the cars sometimes become bunched is that there is a ten minute schedule on the Alameda cars and a seven and a half minute schedule on the San Leandro cars. This will bring every third car of each line within a couple of minutes of each other and then if one gets delayed a very little you will find two cars close together.

"So far as running by people on the road is concerned all our men are instructed, to stop whenever signaled unless they are behind time and heavily loaded when they should signal the passengers to the car behind. Of course men often do not use good judgment in doing this or there would be little complaint and if it is done with any one I shall take it as a favor if any one will pick up the nearest telephone and give us notice at once. It is the only way that this can be remedied. We cannot take it up with all of the men, for in the main they are all right. But there may be cases of men who are not acting as they should and the only way to catch them is at the time that it is done."

NEWS TO HIM.

Aitken—And here is another thing. Why don't you stop cars at Fourteenth avenue?

Potter—This is the first time that I ever knew that they did not stop there.

Aitken—Is the grade there such that this cannot be done?

Potter—No, and I will look into this. It might be on rainy days or when there has been a heavy fog that the tracks would become so slippery and that this would become difficult, but otherwise there is no reason why stops should not be made there.

Councilman Thurston—Now about Telegraph avenue? It is terrible at night time. Cars are bunched and then you cannot get on them.

Potter—This is due partially to the fact that there are not enough cars and then there is an unusually heavy traffic on this line. No man in the world can run a car out Telegraph avenue if he is forced to stop at every crossing. People with bundles, old men and women and the like delay the cars and they get behind time and others catch up with them.

Thurston—Well, could you not put up a sign to "take the next car?" I know that in San Francisco on the Ellis and some of the other lines that the cars kept pretty close to schedule.

Potter—Yes, we might run to schedule if we ran by people, but we have not been doing this.

Thurston—Well it seems to me that it would be much the more sensible way to do. You certainly would not get any more complaints than are being made as it is and you would have the satisfaction of knowing that the cars were running on time.

With a general assurance from Potter and Attorney Engs that the points suggested would be looked into and that as fast as possible the service on all the lines would be improved, the discussion was ended.

GAMBLERS ARE UNDER ARREST

Police Make a Raid and Capture Twenty-two Men.

Captain of Police Petersen and a posse of police officers last night raided a gambling den at 867 Broadway, and arrested twenty-two men who were engaged in winking the goddess of luck. The raid was timed to a nicety, and the gamblers were captured red-handed, engaged in a game of percentage poker.

Those caught in the net of the police were Deacon White, Albert Poppeberg, Joe Moril, William Joseph, William Mourk, Frank Wilson, J. D. Gordon, Ernest Lodtmann, George Hansen, William Henderson, Robert Ward, George Brown, James McGovern, Harry Gladhill, Fred Walker, G. W. Ray, Otto Johnson, John H. Wells, William Hum, Thomas Walter, Edward Hall and Joseph Coleman.

All were booked at the police station on charges of gambling, and were arraigned this morning in department 1 of the police court. Acting Police Judge Geary continued all the cases to June 16, pending the filing of complaints by the police.

STOLE A WATCH
FROM SLEEPER

Two Young Men Are Under Arrest for Robbery.

Evan Edwards and Charles Case, two young men from San Francisco, were arrested last evening by Constable Cramer for snatching a watch from William Gibbs, who was sleeping by the roadside out near Fitchburg. According to the story told by Cramer, Edwards jerked the watch from the person of the sleeping Gibbs and threw it back of him, and Case picked it up and ran off with it. The timepiece was afterwards found on Case. It was an old silver watch of little value.

RELEASED ONLY TO BE REARRESTED

C. M. Bingham and O. A. Krig, the two sailors who were charged with having broken into a Southern Pacific freight car on the night of May 15, and who were released after their preliminary examination yesterday, were rearrested on leaving the courtroom, and booked on the same charge at the police station. They were arraigned in department 1 of the police court this morning and Acting Police Judge Geary set their cases for June 16.

BRYAN IS AGAIN IN HOUSE

Democratic Leader Well Received by Russian Legislators.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 15.—William J. Bryan sailed this afternoon for Stockholm. He devoted the last day of his stay in St. Petersburg to a call on Premier Goremykin, with whom he had an hour's talk, and to another visit to the lower house of parliament, where he remained throughout the morning session. For a time Mr. Bryan was the center of attraction in the lobby of the house, holding a regular reception of members of parliament who were anxious to be presented.

Deputations of Jews and Poles wanted him to define his attitude on questions affecting them, and he was besieged by foreign and Russian correspondents anxious to secure his views on the outcome of the parliamentary struggle here. But beyond an expression of profound interest in the fight the Russian people were making for liberty, and the deep impression made upon him by the Russian parliament, Mr. Bryan declined to make a statement.

BEAR OPERATIONS IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, June 15.—Bear operators extended their lines considerably when call money rose to 4½ per cent. The successful drive against Reading showed out enough stock to drop it four points to 13½, and bring about a general fall to between 1 and 2 points. Short covering helped some of the leading stocks to the extent of a point later, after which the market became very dull.

Extreme losses reached 6 in International Power, 5½ in Great Northern preferred, 4 in Anaconda, 2½ in Northwestern, 2½ in Smelting, 2 in St. Paul, Union Pacific, Colorado Fuel Pressed Steel, 1 to 1½ in New York Central, L. & N., Texas & Pacific, U. S. Steel preferred, Locomotive, Sugar and B. R. T.

DRINK HOUSE GOWN AS AND NEGLEE

A VERITABLE JAPANESE

THE SUN-PLEATED TEGOWN

BY OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT,
MIRIAM SPIER.

If there is one garment that belongs distinctly to the Frenchwoman more than any other, with the exception of the beaded silk petticoat, it surely must be the robe d'intérieur. Under this latter class falls the matinee or negligee, the pignoir, or dressing gown, and the robe de chambre, which characterizes anything from the most unconventional of wrappers to the elaborate and expensive silk or lace garment to throw around one when one is partly dressed.

The Frenchwoman devotes as much time to her house dress as to her street gown. She is "visible" only to special friends until "dîner à la fourchette, or luncheon." This is taken about midday. Up to that time madame and mademoiselle flit about in garments fashioned most daintily. There are frills, furbelows, flouncings, ruffles and indescribable little touches. Such clothes do not endure. True, they are fragile, but up, whose glory is only for a day. But, then, one does not expect much of mousseline, chiffon or feathery lace, and that is about all that composes the ordinary robe d'intérieur. A substantial creation it certainly is not. While negligee robes are always pretty and feminine, they are never anything besides. The character of the woman who wears them seems reproduced—bright, gay, insouciant and with poor weary qualities. If there is the slightest strain on the robe, they show it, for not only are the colors airy and delicate, but the stitches that hold the fabrics together appear to be intended for few occasions. However, these filmy house toilets are not unlike other articles of dress made in France, for the dressmakers here scorn putting delicate handwork in a frock. With them each creation must represent a picture, and if the effect is good their aim is accomplished. It would never do to turn a gown inside out to examine the lining. One would see raw edges, pieces of bastings and the seamy side very much in evidence. But, on the other hand, there is nothing finer or more complete than the work put on lingerie and underwear of every description. Everything is done by hand, for in France machine work is more expensive than that done with the fingers. Fine couturiers hold that so much stitching and repetition in detail can be put on a robe that every particle of style will be obliterated, and there is a great deal of truth in their doctrine.

We know that matinees and tegowns have been absolute necessities, and, strange to say, every season brings its new fashion as well as increased demand. It is now considered so extremely uncomfortable to wear a street gown in the house that these lawn and silk tegowns and matinees are positive necessities. For many a long year the doctrine has been preached to the effect that where economy in dress has to be considered, there must always be suitable gowns for the street and for the house, but economy failed to create the desire which the fact that fashion has ordered it has produced. The accordion pleated veiling and crepe de chine and even cotton crepe gowns are all considered smart and are made in every color. White for the moment is the most fashionable, but the pale pink and blue, mauves and grays of the palest silvery shade make up charmingly. Deep collars, the end in front reaching the waist and trimmed with bands of lace entre deux, are part of every gown, and the collar is accented also. A thin silk lining is necessary, both for comfort and because the accordion pleating is so full and wide that it gives almost a bath or room wrapper, while the front of the gown is accented with a row of lace and seams, more semblance of line may be obtained.

The tea gown is more elaborate than the matinee, and should be made with longer lines. There are many charming models according to pleated, but the pleats are narrow and there is not so much material required, especially as a tea gown is supposed to be a rather more formal style, a matinee being merely an idealized bath or room wrapper while a tea gown can be so elaborate in design that it is often possible for an informal dinner gown.

The softer weaves of satin, crepe and silk are the best materials for the tea gown, while in matinees and some of the more elaborate models used for both gowns this winter are most charming for this purpose, and as the pattern robes can be bought for much less than was asked for them six months ago, the gown need not be so entirely beyond the reach of the majority.

Embroidered batiste and muslin negligees are the latest designs for the summer season. In batiste and some of the more exquisite embroideries, and made upon a colored silk lining they are the most daintily dainty and effective things imaginable. Some are made up simply and others are most elaborate.

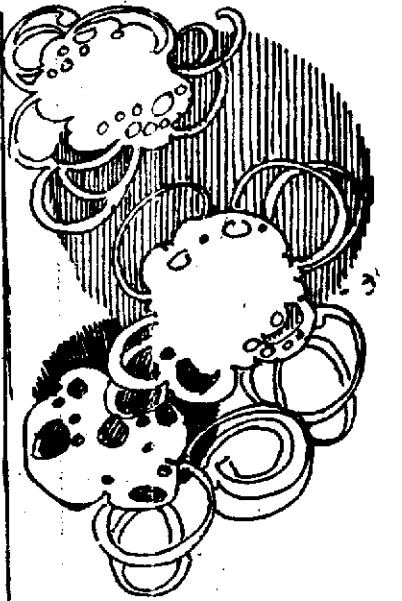

Generally the negligee or tea gown is partially fastened to a little below the waist line, then a most delicate and lacy petticoat is revealed. Of course, it is ab-and fashioned with the usual lack of seam which characterizes this garment. The long sash is embroidered to match and tied in a full butterfly bow in the back.

The Sun-Plated Tea Gown.

The round yoke which falls so low on the shoulder that it is almost a cape is formed of and edged with Madeira embroidery in a dull ecru tint, which accords well with the rose pink satin of the gown. This is supplemented and joined to the yoke beneath the bertha and diamond-shaped insertions of the Madeira work are placed at intervals through the pleats. There is a ruffled drapey caught into the armholes with the full, puffed sleeve and, of course, a small bow at the wrist ruffles.

The Josephine Gown.

Almost elaborate and formal enough for dinner wear is this graceful gown, a copy of one worn by Josephine, empress of the French, in the days when she ruled fashion as well as France. The familiar short corset, with its broad sash, is well expressed in satinum pink crepe, to which the yellowish tines of the lace make a softening effect. There is an overdress arrangement draped from the shoulders which falls in pointed fashion back and front. The skirt portion has a circular flounce formed of alternate shaped stripes of crepe and satin, and the sleeves are long and flowing from a shallow cap.

"Peleha" Embroidered Linen: Skirt, waist.

What linen is tucked in groups into the long shoulder seam, little floral sprays being worked by hand between the groups. These so appear on the collar and cuffs, the former of which is slightly with a little washable featherwork. The sleeve is the loose bishop puff gathered into a band cuff and fastened with pearl buttons.

Quantitatively Simple Skirt.

The round yoke of forgetting is elaborated with lengthwise bands of lace, backed with white chiffon. To the yoke the blouse is applied in fine, slightly run by hand. The fronts are pretty into the belt, which is curved with the Rosalind adjuster. The sleeves are tucked in the upper portion and gathered into a dotted cuff.

Paper flywheels are coming into use. The tensile strength of paper is enormous, hence its advantage over iron for this purpose.

or Mexican drawwork effect, and some waists are made up with light laces. Of course, we know there is an unceasing demand for the long-shouldered effect, and since the American figure is rather pronouncedly broad and square shouldered, the drooping-shoulder effect, when it is well cut, rather adds to their detracts from the natural beauty of the average figure.

A Detailed Description of Accompanying Models.

Neglee of sceilaime.

To a shallow shoulder yoke, which is concealed by the Marie Antoinette collar, the skirts, which are circular in cut, are attached. The trimming scheme of medallions formed of narrow black velvet ribbon edged with lace shows up well on the pale yellow sceilaime, and ruffles of creamy lace as are used to edge the collar, cascade down the fronts and sleeves and form a double ruffle above the hem.

Veritable Japanese.

From Japan comes this kimono of pale green satin embroidered in cherry blossoms. The gown is padded and quilted solately essential to have the lingerie in accordance with the outer gown. Most of the petticoats are in batiste or figured muslin, though any number of silk ones are used also. These flowered and striped garments are not only dainty, but they roll less easily than the skirts all in white. Tiny bows of black velvet ribbon appear here and there. Nearly all of the petticoats are self-embroidered, and this makes the trimming of them very simple. The old-fashioned Hamburg stitch is employed on some patterns, and ruffles are mounted on the skirt proper. By this means there is less wear and tear on the work, and one is not apt to catch the heel in the ruffles. Ruffles are made full, but the petticoat barely gives room for one to step out when walking.

The short and long kimonos are without a doubt, very popular and have certainly come to stay. They are not only comfortable, but becoming and particularly well adapted to be worn in mid-air's boudoir. Most of the latter are made of China silk, with dainty floral effects in oriental patterns, while exquisite designs may be seen in the dressier negligees made of crepe de chine, albatross, voile, chaille and china silk.

A dainty little matinee is of rose colored such with trimmings of ecru lace. The pretty petticoat is of the same shade silk, with black soutache braid on the flounce, and is one of the new ones made with a yoke to fit the figure like a glove. It is so narrow that the foundation is little more than two yards around at the hem. The dainty lace is accented with a row of lace and seams, more semblance of line may be obtained.

Strikingly charming is a morning gown most gracefully designed, too dainty for the street. It is of white satin deaine. Deep cream lace is cascaded at both sides of the Watteau plait, which extends from the yoke in the back to the hem of the train. A similar plait with similar lace finishes off the front. The velvet ribbon is employed on the collar and the sleeves, which are elbow length, and full full lingerie ruffles fall over the forearm.

The robes d'intérieur of more elaborate design that are now to be seen are very smart and are quite like the evening dresses worn this year, that with little drawing in at the waist they might easily be used for more than one purpose. MAY YOHE TO SUE FOR DIVORCE

"Everybody Has Gone Back on Me but My Japanese Maid."

NEW YORK, June 15.—May Yohe led a beautiful Aberdeen terrier down the gangplank of the Mesaba yesterday. There was no one on the pier to greet her on her arrival.

"Hear anything of Putty?" she asked the reporters, referring to her husband, Captain Putnam Bradley Strong. They had not.

"The day before I sailed last December he started for Japan," she said. "I read since he got into some trouble in the Orient over a check transaction. I guess he's quit me for good. Everybody has gone back on me but my little Japanese maid. I am going to sue Putty for a divorce on the ground of desertion and nonsupport. I'll not give him any quarter. I have forgiven him three times. But I'm done with him."

"Wouldn't you forgive him just once more if he suddenly turned up and promised to be good?"

"Never again. I guess his folks wish I was dead. You can deny that statement that they made a settlement with me. I never got a cent from them or from Putty either. I supported him from the time I met him."

"I am not going to stay in New York. I will go on to my mother's home in Providence and rest. I am tired of all the notoriety that has been thrust upon me."

As proof positive of the last assertion Miss Yohe announced that she would star next fall in a French musical comedy.

SENTENCE COMMUTED.
WASHINGTON, June 15.—President Roosevelt has commuted the sentence of First Lieutenant Travers of the artillery corps, sentenced to dismissal by court-martial for duplicating pay rolls. Upon the recommendation of the secretary of war the president changed the sentence to the foot of the first artillery corps.

OFFICIAL VISIT.
CHRISTIANA, June 15.—Emperor Williams will arrive at Trondheim July 8, on an official visit to King Haakon.

JUDGE TUTTLE SECRETLY WEDS

Falls Before the Charms of His Pretty Stenographer.

SAN JOSE, June 15.—In order to avoid gossip and marry in peace his pretty stenographer, Judge Hiram D. Tuttle, the most prominent lawyer of this city and a veteran club man, relinquished a lucrative practice, deserted a host of friends here and went to San Francisco, where last Saturday, according to report, he married the girl of his choice, Miss Annie Mulcahy.

Judge Tuttle announced his intention of transferring his business just prior to the earthquake and thereby caused considerable comment. He took with him his library and his stenographer, an Auburn-haired beauty, who had been in his employ for two years. A few significant remarks were made then, but not until last night, when the news of the marriage became known, was the story believed.

Judge Tuttle was a widower. He was appointed to the superior bench by Governor Pardee to fill Judge Lorigan's unexpired term. He resigned to resume his large practice. The bride is the daughter of a well-known Santa Clara family.

CANNOT BE FOUND.
WASHINGTON, June 15.—In the trial today of Messrs. Greene and Doremus on charges growing out of the sale of canceling machines to the government for the postal service, Harvey Givens, chief clerk of the district attorney's office, was called to the stand and asked by the district attorney what effort had been made to subpoena Perry S. Heath. He replied that he had made every possible effort. District attorney Baker then submitted three subpoenas which had been issued for Mr. Heath and returned unserved.

PAVLOFF AROUSES STORM

Relations Between Czar and Parliament Are at a Crisis.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 15.—The press is unanimous in its profound pessimism over yesterday's events in the lower house of parliament. The situation is strained to the breaking point. The attempt of the military procurator, General Pavloff, in behalf of War Minister Rudiger, to shift the responsibility for the military expectations to the minister of the interior is a palpable evasion of the issue raised by the house and has been echoed throughout the country. The result is that a storm of indignation has been aroused and is, being augmented by the cool attempt of the government to invade the inviolability of members of parliament in its demand for the expulsion of Mulianoff. Whether the government dares follow up legally the refusal of the house to expel Mulianoff and its flaunting of Procurator Pavloff is now the question. Unless the government is definitely resolved to give battle, the Goremeykin ministry must step into the chasm between it and parliament, which is now unbridgeable.

M. Alladin, leader of the peasant workmen group, openly boasted from the rostrum yesterday that the death of the ministers would be the country's rejoinder to the government's refusal to abolish the death penalty. Some of the papers believe that yesterday's events definitely foreshadow the government's intention to dissolve Parliament, and they emphasize the military conspiracy of the officers of the guard regiments which is progressing unchecked before everybody's eyes at the capital.

It is significant that the Novoe Vremya, hitherto a thick and thin supporter of the government, is silent today.

The Rech and the Strana, which liberal papers best keep their heads in times of stress, sadly comment on the rapidly waning chances of an understanding being reached between the emperor and parliament. They consider that the only hope now lies in the emperor's discarding his evil advisers immediately and trying the experiment of surrounding himself with representatives of the people.

The agitation among the workmen is increasing and several strikes are already in operation. At a meeting of 5000 social democratic workmen last night it was declared that parliament had engaged in futile talk for a month and had done nothing, and that the workmen must have recourse to a general strike. Representatives of the bakers announced that the bakeries would be closed in a few days and that the city would be without bread.

ABRAHAM HILL CHAMPION SHOT

WASHINGTON, June 15.—The complete records of rifle, pistol and carbine firing of the United States army for 1905, which have just been published, show Abraham Hill, a sergeant in the Twenty-fourth Infantry, stationed in the Department of Dakota, to be the best shot in the army. The percentage of possible shots made by Hill on slow fire, timed fire and skirmish fire was 88.33. The three others at the head of the score after him were: Captain Rufus E. Longan, Eleventh Infantry, Department of Missouri, 85.1; Sergeant William A. Cantrell, Fifth Infantry, 84.7; Otto Shan, sergeant in Second cavalry, department of Luzon, 81.47.

RUSSIAN TROUBLE GENERAL

Workmen Are Striking and Peasants Raising Disturbances.

MOSCOW, June 15.—The agitation among the workmen here is general and the strike is in full progress. Largely attended meetings of a revolutionary character are held nightly in the industrial sections and big demonstrations are made in front of prisons. In the resolutions adopted, support is pledged to parliament only so long as it persists in its fight against the bureaucracy.

PEASANTS ACQUITTED.

KURSK, Russia, June 15.—Thirty peasants who were charged with devastating the estate near here of M. Stickinsky, minister of agriculture, have been acquitted by the jury, owing to the testimony furnished regarding the extreme harshness of the superintendent of the estate.

LANDOWNER KILLED.

MOHILEV, Russia, June 15.—The proprietor of an estate in this vicinity who refused to distribute his land to the peasants has been killed.

BEATEN BY PEASANTS.

NOVGOROD, Russia, June 15.—Several proprietors of estates in this province have been beaten and driven off by the peasants.

COSSACKS SENT TO TVER.

TVER, Russia, June 15.—Cossacks and dragoons have been dispatched to two districts near here, where the peasants, losing patience at the inaction of parliament, are taking possession of lands.

TRIAL FOR TREASON.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 15.—The trial of fifty-two deserters and the workmen charged with attempting to set up a republic during the disturbance of last fall, has been fixed for August 1.

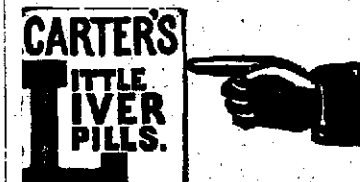

FLOUR MILLS BURNING.

TULA, Russia, June 15.—The flour mills and grain warehouses here are burning.

WILL TALK ABOUT MEAT INSPECTION

WASHINGTON, June 15.—An informal conference of those members of the house committee on agriculture whose votes authorized the report on the sub-meat inspection bill, to which the president objects, was held at 11:30 o'clock today. No regular meeting of the committee had been called and it is understood that the president's objection will first be considered in detail by the members favoring the substitute in an informal manner. Minutes of the informal session will be made by an official stenographer.

SHE MADE AN APPEAL FOR FABIOLA

The following was published in a Brockton, Mass., paper:
An appeal for help for sick and wounded sufferers at Oakland, Cal., has come to Dr. N. C. King of this city, and it is couched in such terms that the reader gets a vivid word picture of distress, one which can hardly fail to produce a definite effect. The letter to Dr. King tells its own story best in its own words. It reads:

Corona, Cal., May 22.

Dr. N. C. King, Dear Sir: I take the liberty to write to you in regard to the great need of help in the Fabiola hospital at Oakland. It is crowded to overflowing and has even the lawns covered with tents. They have had no help from the outside and need clothing and old cotton and linen. All the gauze is kept for delicate operations. They usually have about $500 a month, but since the earthquake they have had nothing, as the people are not in a position to give. We are doing what we can, but this is a small town and we cannot do what we would like to do. The need will continue. They are having a great many contagious diseases. They have had patients that they could not send out for lack of clothing. If the people of Brockton could do something for them it would be gratefully received, as it is used for the refugees only. I ask this for suffering humanity. For information address Jeannette B. Everson, Fabiola hospital, Oakland, Cal. Yours truly,

SARAH A. DEAN.

BURGLAR MAKES A RAID ON A SALOON

The saloon of Gavello & Rice, at 854 Broadway, was entered by a burglar last night about 8 o'clock and although there were a number of people passing the place at that hour the thief coolly ransacked the saloon, securing $1.50 in 5-cent pieces and a number of trade checks. The burglar was finally seen in the saloon by a woman, who gave the alarm, but the fellow escaped before he could be captured.

The burglar gained entrance to the saloon by forcing open the rear door of the place, and when discovered he made his escape by the same means. He is described as a rather young man, tall and heavy set, but owing to the semi-darkness in the saloon no accurate description could be secured.

PHILIPPINE ROADS TO BE CONSTRUCTED

MANILA, June 15.—Preliminary work on the Philippine island railroads will begin at once. Forty engineers and physicians who arrived at Manila on June 9 and 10 left today for Iloilo to begin operations. The line on the island of Panay will be surveyed first, some changes in the original survey being necessary. The actual work of construction will probably commence this summer.

NATIONAL COUNCIL TO MEET IN DENVER

DENVER, Colo., June 15.—The next biennial convention of the national council of the Knights and Ladies of Security in 1908 will be held in Philadelphia. This city came in at the last minute and was victorious. Chicago, St. Joseph, St. Louis, Cape Girardeau, Tex., Detroit and a half-dozen other cities were after the convention. Additional importance is attached to the 1908 convention because an election of national officers will be held, to hold for the succeeding four years.

GONE 13 YEARS, LEGAL CORPSE, HE TURNS UP

PITTSBURGH, June 15.—John Moonney, 63 years old, who disappeared mysteriously from here thirteen years ago, has turned up, and complications most interesting have resulted. Moonney was, years ago, declared legally dead, his insurance of $10,000 was collected by his family and spent. Now, Moonney, who has returned broken down mentally and physically, does not know just who he is, but is inclined to think he is nobody.

His mind for the past thirteen years appears to have been a blank. Shortly before he disappeared, Moonney owned 20 houses, and was said to be worth more than $1,000,000. He lost most of this money in a financial panic and became deranged. Leaving his home he was not heard of again until two days ago, when he came back and made himself known. He constantly calls for his wife, who died very soon after she collected his life insurance.

WOMAN PROFESSOR LEAVES FOR THE EAST

BERKELEY, June 15.—Miss Lucy Sprague, one who among the regents of the university have conferred the unique honor of a professorship—the first woman to have ever received this mark of distinction—has left for the East to take a well-needed rest. Miss Sprague enjoys the rank, honor and salary of assistant professor. She was an instructor in the English department and in that capacity acted as adviser to the women students of the university. Her work was so satisfactory that after a five years' stay at the university she is promoted to the professorship. Miss Sprague came to the west from Radcliffe college where she was graduated with high honors. Upon graduation she left for Europe where she made a stay of eight years in order to study and prepare herself for a place in the university. Miss Sprague expects to return to the university in time for its opening in August.
